Hitler, Chamberlain Meet

SUDETENS TO MARCH SOON

GODESBURG, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and Fuehrer Adolf Hitler discussed details of the partition of Czechoslovakia today while the Sudeten "Free Corps" army and German police awaited the order to march in and take over the Sudeten area.

Informed Germans said Hitler would insist that an early hour, perhaps tomorrow, must be set for the movement into Sudetenland.

The conference, at the Dreesen hotel on the banks of the Rhine, lasted more than 2 1/2 hours.

More Talks

The German official news agency announced the talks would be resumed tomorrow morning.

As at Berchtesgaden, there was no inkling of the nature of the talks.

The general line of the conversation was known, however. There was the matter of the details of occupation, which Chamberlain would like to be accomplished without haste and with perfect order. Hitler wants the whole thing over at once.

Then there was the knotty problem of the demands of Poland and Hungary for cession of those parts of the Sudetenland inhabited partly by Poles and Magyars, a demand with which Hitler has expressed sympathy.

That Chamberlain would yield on that point, or that Hitler would insist on it at this time if it threatened to rupture the negotiations, was considered unlikely.

There was also the difficult problem of finding common ground on a plan for an international guaranty of Czechoslovakia's future integrity.

German circles said the discussions are likely to be short, because "Chamberlain has clear proposals in his pocket and Hitler the clear ideas in his head." The talks, it was believed, would end by noon Friday.

Chamberlain will not be Hitler's guest at dinner, possibly for the same reason that Hitler did not meet Chamberlain at the airport when he flew to Berchtesgaden. He did not wish to give it too much the character of a state visit.

After leaving Hitler, Chamberlain talked for half an hour in the banquet room of the hotel with the British delegation and German experts. When he left the hotel, he and Hitler parted with a cordial handshake.

Joachim Von Ribbentrop, German foreign minister, accompanied Chamberlain back to his hotel. They left to the roll of drums of a uniformed guard of honor.

CZECHS FORM NEW GOVERNMENT

PRAGUE, Sept. 22.—(UP)—President Eduard Benes tonight announced formation of a new coalition government and appealed to the nation to avoid disorders that might give a foreign power reason for intervening in Czechoslovakia.

The new cabinet was formed after "foreign" influences had forced Benes to abandon his plan to name Gen. Jan Syrovky, leader of the Czech legions in Russia during the World War, as premier and to select instead Jan Cerny, governor of Moravia. Cerny concentrated on a broad coalition with army support.

The cabinet of Premier Milan Hodza had resigned earlier while thousands of demonstrators protested the surrender of Sudetenland to Germany and cried: "Give us arms!"

Benes, coincident with announcement that the cabinet was completed, appealed to the nation by radio to maintain order and discipline.

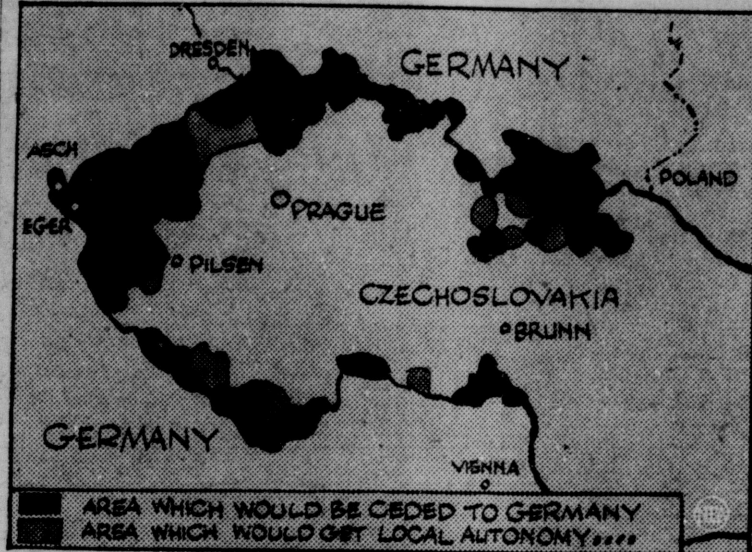

He emphasized the necessity of avoiding any outbreaks that might give any foreign power reason for interference in the nation's internal affairs. The German army was poised across the frontier and police in the Austrian area were being concentrated as Benes spoke.

Death Toll In County Cut 17

Proof of the value of the safety of the California Highway patrol was seen today with the announcement that Orange county was tied with Imperial and Ventura counties for first place in the reduction of traffic fatalities on rural highways during the first seven and one-half months of this year.

Each county cut the toll by 17 lives below the total for the first seven and one-half months of last year. According to figures released by Captain Henry C. Meehan, the fatalities on September 17 of this year are only 33 as compared with 50 for a similar period last year.

Hitler's Share Of Czech State

The Czech state, as set up by the allied powers after the World War has ceased to exist. Today, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, on behalf of England and France, will deliver to Adolf Hitler the rich Sudeten area of Czechoslovakia. Chamberlain and Hitler met today at Godesburg on the Rhine, set the seal on the partition of Czechoslovakia, and discussed what guarantees could be pledged for the integrity of what will be left of the post war state. Regions voting more than 75 per cent Nazi in recent elections will be ceded to Germany; those voting between 50 and 75 per cent Nazi will be given a measure of local autonomy. Other partly-German districts will remain Czech. Similar treatment of Polish and perhaps Hungarian and Slovak minorities might follow, thus completely partitioning Czechoslovakia, which rose from an old dream of a powerful Czech national state.

J. C. STUDENT FUNDS USED IN BOND FIGHT—MINUS AUTHORITY

BULLETIN
The Associated Students' executive board of the Santa Ana junior college met at 11:55 a. m. today and approved expenditures from the student funds for advertising in the present campaign for the junior college bonds.

Funds of the junior college student body association have been used by proponents of the $385,000 junior college bond issue, admittedly without authority of the student body, The Register learned today.

Printing of material used to promote the bond issue has been done in the school print shop in competition with private enterprise, it also was admitted by school officials.

Minus Authority
Although G. W. Bassett, manager of the campaign on behalf of the bonds, and School Superintendent Frank Henderson told The Register that the student body had paid the bill for the bond promotion, Director D. K. Hammond, of the junior college, admitted that the question had never been submitted to the student body, nor approval of the bond proponents in action of the bond proponents was shown to have been entirely without authority.

Control of the student body funds rests with the student body itself and expenditure of the funds is supposed to be directed by the student body, subject only to a nominal approval by the board of education, both Henderson and Hammond stated.

Students Not Asked
When asked for the minutes of the only student-body meeting held so far this term, Director Hammond admitted that the minutes contained no record approving the bond campaign expenditure, and that the student body had not been asked to pass upon the expenditure.

Hammond admitted that he had usurped the authority of the student body and authorized the expenditure of the student funds.

"I am their advisor and they usually follow my advice," he said. "What right have the proponents of the bond issue to use the school printing equipment for turning out material promoting the bond issue?" both Henderson and Hammond were asked. Both admitted that they didn't know whether there was such right.

Not First Time
"It's always been done," they said. Hammond explained that students did as much of the labor as possible, and that the faculty instructed, or billed the student body funds for material and other expense. But the student body hadn't been asked.

Brite Brothers Get Reprieve

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 22.—(UP)—Gov. Frank F. Merriam today granted a fifth reprieve to John and Coke Brite, Siskiyou county triple slayers, who were scheduled to die tomorrow on the Folsom prison gallows. The governor extended the execution date to Dec. 9.

The governor acted in response to a request from the advisory pardon board, which is considering the case for a second time. The board notified the governor it would be unable to complete its deliberations before the scheduled execution and asked additional time.

The Brite brothers were sentenced to hang for the murder of two peace officers and a civilian in 1936 at Horse Creek, in the remote Siskiyou mountain country of Northern California.

Fish Grow Too Big For Pool

SPENCER, Ind., Sept. 22.—(UP)—Gilbert McHenry decided today that the catfish his father put in the farm pond 54 years ago has become a menace to the livestock, so it will be killed.

"We're going to drain the pond," McHenry said. "That fish weighs about 100 pounds and we aren't going to take chances on him hurting anyone. Why just the other day he whisked out to the edge of the pond and pulled a young pig under the water. We didn't see him again."

GALE CAUSES WORRY HERE

With turbulent nature tragically turning the tables, Mrs. Clara Southernlin of Cypress street, Santa Ana, today was frantic to learn if any harm had come to her sister whose home is on the ocean beach near Westport, Conn., which felt the full force of yesterday's hurricane and tidal wave.

"It's really ironic," Mrs. Southernlin told The Register this morning, "because this same sister was greatly concerned over us during the last March 3 flood in Orange county when Westport newspapers practically had Santa Ana wiped off the map."

Had Visited Here
"My sister, Mrs. Bertha Herbert Holly, who resides in Owen Oak Park place, Westport, has visited in this city."

Up to press time today, Mrs. Holly's name had not been included in tentative lists of injured or dead in the locality of the Connecticut coastline that was hardest hit.

Fullerton Woman Named WCTU Head

Mrs. Cora Hale, of Fullerton, was elected president of the Orange County Women's Christian Temperance union at the annual convention in the White Temple Methodist church in Anaheim this morning. She succeeds Mrs. Lola G. Grimm.

Miss Viola Nelson of Newport Heights, was named vice president; Mrs. Elizabeth Warren, Santa Ana, recording secretary; Mrs. Hazel Mayfield, Placentia, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Alma Kellogg, Santa Ana, treasurer.

Conducts Rites
The opening song service was conducted by Mrs. Mary Parks. The election of officers was conducted by Mrs. Sarah Brown. Reports of the national convention were presented.

This afternoon's program opened with a devotional service conducted by the Rev. William Rogatzky, pastor of the Broadway Methodist church, of Anaheim.

Last night's program included a devotional service conducted by the Rev. Kells Swenerton, pastor of the White Temple church, of Anaheim; solo, Mrs. Stanley F. George; a talk, "The Y.T.C. and What It Means," Miss Beth Brunemier; "Wooden Soldiers," Mrs. Nellie McAdams and Miss Alice McAdams; solo, "The Ninety and Nine," Ira W. McNames; Mrs. Cora Hale, vice president, presided.

LEGION LEADER PASSES

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Addison Spenny of Cheyenne, Wyo., adjutant of the department of Wyoming of the American Legion, died today in the Sawtelle soldiers' home hospital of asthma.

Spenny, who came here to attend the national Legion convention, was stricken Monday night during the department commanders' banquet and was forced to leave the table and was taken to the veterans' hospital.

12 Rescued As Trawler Capsizes

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—(UP)—The sardine trawler Frigidland capsized 11 miles off the Golden Gate today. Its 12 crewmen were rescued by another fishing boat, the City of Sausalito, according to reports.

Several other craft were reported standing by in an effort to salvage the Frigidland.

"I'D RATHER BE DEAD" SAYS BRAKEMAN BLAMED FOR WRECK

BRAWLEY, Calif., Sept. 22.—(UP)—The brakeman who threw the switch that sent two crack Southern Pacific passenger trains into a collision said today he would like to take the place of one of the 11 who died in the wreck.

Leonard Jacobson, 61-year-old, brakeman of 18 years experience, took full responsibility for the wreck in a statement made prior to today's inquest.

112 Hurt
The thrown switch sent the limited Argonaut crashing into the Californian, which was standing on a siding on the desert 180 miles east of Los Angeles early Tuesday. The injured totaled 112.

"I only wish that I could trade places with any of the dead persons," Jacobson said. "If I only could take the place of that engineer or those two firemen who were killed."

Jacobson walked into the room at the Colton station as Deputy Coroner L. E. Cash of Riverside county was taking witnesses' statements.

"Yes, I know what caused the wreck," Jacobson said. "I never tell a lie. I threw that switch."

START INVESTIGATION INTO DEATH OF ARMY AIR CHIEF

BURBANK, Calif., Sept. 22.—(UP)—An official army board of inquiry began today to investigate the airplane crash in which Maj. Gen. Oscar Westover, 55-year-old chief of the army air corps, and his mechanic were killed.

Col. Harvey S. Burwell came here from March field to take charge of the investigation. Headquarters were established in the offices of the Lockheed aircraft plant which Westover was on his way to visit yesterday afternoon when his small Northrop monoplane crashed on the lawn of a Burbank home.

Throttle Open
The motor appeared to be in perfect order until the crash, Maj. Joseph L. Stromme, one of Westover's aides, believed that the plane might have been caught in a "thermal air current" which often prevails on exceptionally warm days such as yesterday was.

The throttle was completely open, indicating the pilot, probably Westover, was making a desperate effort to level the ship off. Instead, the plane went into a power dive and at the impact was traveling at a speed of 150 miles per hour or more.

The ignition had been turned off. Although the plane developed motor trouble and was forced down at Denver a week ago, it was repaired and no trouble had been experienced recently.

Liked To Fly
Authorities said it was impossible to determine definitely whether Westover or Sgt. Sam Hynes, 39, of Bolling field, Va., was at the controls. It was Westover's hobby to fly his own plane, which led to the belief that he was the pilot.

It was ironic that Westover, a few hours before his death, had presented safety awards to March field's 19th bombardment group.

Accident Results In Driver's Death

Death of Hilton Leo Nettles, 32, of 188 Twentieth street, Costa Mesa, in Santa Ana Valley hospital at 6:38 p. m. yesterday brought the record of traffic deaths in Orange County for 1938 to 51, last year at the same time, 56 lives had been lost as result of traffic mishaps.

Nettles was injured last Sunday at 11:30 a. m. while driving a truck for the Newport Dredging company on the Kelly ranch near San Juan Capistrano. His death was due to skull fracture, internal injuries and compound fracture of the leg.

Mr. Nettles, with his nephew, Edward Boies, and Donald Harris, Costa Mesa, was driving the truck up a steep hill on a road of the Kelly ranch when the engine stalled. The truck was stopped successfully, cranked and started up again.

Then the engine stalled a second time and the truck started backing down the steep grade. Boies and Harris jumped clear and escaped injury as Mr. Nettles stayed at the wheel and steered the truck into an earthen bank.

The truck threw Mr. Nettles out as it turned over on its side and pinned him beneath its tank, half full of water.

A native of Baton Rouge, La., Mr. Nettles came here two years ago. He is survived by two brothers, Monroe, Costa Mesa, and Henry Maurice, of South Carolina, and two sisters, Mrs. Ida Mae Boies and Mrs. Lela B. Brown, both of Louisiana. Funeral arrangements are pending at the Dixon-Grauel funeral chapel, Costa Mesa. Coroner Earl Abbey also has an inquest pending.

Election Quiet
Today's election of national officers aroused little interest. Stephen F. Chadwick of Seattle was unopposed for commander. Competing for national chaplain were the Rev. J. L. Fritchie of Kearney, Neb., an Episcopal rector who served in a combat division during the World War, and the Rev. Raymond W. Cooke, a Baltimore Methodist minister who was a medical corps lieutenant.

The 1500 official delegates adopted by acclamation a series of resolutions asking a large army, navy and coastal defenses. Their recommendations included:

More Manpower
Addition of 18,760 fighting men to the regular army bringing its strength to 192,760; plus increases in the national guard, reserves, and veterans' hospital.

N. Y. Strike In Four-Day Truce

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—(UP)—A four day truce began today in the citywide trucking strike that had crippled transportation of materials, and thousands of truckmen returned to their jobs.

The truce was reached early today at one of a series of conferences at the city hall among representatives of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, State Federation of Labor, the Merchant Truckmen's Bureau and the Highway Transport association.

Under its terms normal trucking operations will continue until at least Saturday night. Then, if no agreement has been reached, the unions will call a membership meeting to consider a general trucking strike.

Bank Embezzler Gets Jail Term

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Eugene P. Peters, 33, former assistant cashier of the Los Gatos branch of the Bank of America, today was sentenced to 18 months in a federal penitentiary for embezzling $4500 from the bank.

Peters, who previously pleaded guilty, asked probation, but this was denied by Federal Judge Michael J. Roche.

DAMAGE FROM HURRICANE NEAR 150 MILLION MARK

(By United Press)
More than 300 persons died in the hurricane and tidal waves which lashed northeast United States, a survey of the area revealed late today.

The dead by states:
Rhode Island 138.
Massachusetts 80.
Connecticut 42.
New York 34.
New Hampshire 9.
New Jersey 1.
Quebec (Montreal) 2.
Total 306.

Sweeps Long Island
The full horror of the storm as it swept northward over Long Island and New England did not become apparent until telephone communication was reestablished between Boston and Rhode Island, the state hardest hit by the worst disaster in the region's history.

The New England toll had been recorded at 134, but the figure rose to 250 within a few minutes after reports started pouring in from Rhode Island and a short time later to 261.

High tides piled up by the 100 mile an hour hurricane accounted for most of the destruction. Walls of water descended upon Providence and other coast towns and rolled inland as far as one fifth of a mile.

Hundreds Missing
In addition to the known dead in the hurricane's path hundreds were missing, thousands were homeless and other hundreds were injured. Property damage estimates rose from $50,000,000 early today to $150,000,000 and higher by mid-afternoon.

While communities were devastated, many remained cut off from the outside world.

Rush Aid
As the extent of the disaster began to be apparent governmental agencies, the American Red Cross and volunteer groups rushed to the work of rescue and relief.

President Roosevelt ordered the Coast Guard the CCC, the National Guard, the WPA and other arms of the federal government to go to the aid of stricken communities. Thousands of relief workers were mobilized and sent to scores of communities.

Hardly a community in Long Island, Connecticut, Rhode Island and Massachusetts escaped the hurricane, which appeared to gather intensity as it sped northward. New Hampshire, upstate New York and New Jersey felt the storm to a lesser degree.

Experts Amazed
Federal weather experts in Washington were surprised by reports from the storm regions.

Forecaster Charles L. Mitchell said "There was nothing in the behavior of the storm as it progressed northward to lead us to believe that such winds would be experienced in New England."

Defends Stand In Bridges Case

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins reiterated today that no action can be taken in the deportation case against Harry Bridges, Australian-born west coast CIO leader, until the supreme court determines whether membership in the Communist party is sufficient cause for deportation.

She refused to comment on criticism of conduct of the Bridges case voiced by Chairman Martin Dies of the house committee investigating un-American activities.

Miss Perkins said the department now is appealing to the supreme court from a fifth circuit court of appeals decisions holding that membership in the Communist party is not sufficient grounds for deporting Joseph George Strecher, Arkansas restaurant owner who admitted he was a party member.

Circus Not To Show In S. A.

The Hagenbeck-Wallace circus, in legal difficulties, will not be presented in Santa Ana as scheduled tomorrow.

That was the news reaching Santa Ana this afternoon from Riverside sheriff's officers who have attached the "big top" canvas tent on the basis of a claim and delivery suit filed by owners of the canvas.

Leaving Los Angeles, the circus outfit was to be split into two sections, one going to Phoenix, the other to Riverside. Following two shows at Riverside Tuesday, the canvas owners attached it. If circus officials do not pay off indebtedness to the canvas owners by Monday, the canvas will be taken over by the owners.

97-Year-Old News Paper Quits Field

FLUSHING, N. Y., Sept. 22.—The North Shore Daily Journal, published here for 97 years, suspended publication this week and its name and editorial features were taken over by the Long Island Daily Star.

In a statement printed in the last issue of the North Shore Journal, Harold Forbes, publisher, said the paper "finds itself unable to bear any longer the burden of publishing a newspaper adequate to meet the needs of its readers and advertisers."

"Our decision to suspend publication was made only after long deliberation and with extreme reluctance," he said. "For several years the operation of this newspaper has been unprofitable; during the past year increasing costs of material and labor have caused the loss to mount to unbearable proportions."

"We were confronted, too, with a prospect of a hopeless future. Economics we felt necessary to offset rising material and labor costs would inevitably result in a poorer newspaper product. We, therefore, decided to step out of the field so that others in a more advantageous position may offer the community the newspaper service that is vital to its growth."

PRINCIPALS NAME J. W. MEANS CHIEF

J. W. Means, principal of Tustin high school, was elected president of the Orange County Principals and Superintendents association, at the organization's annual meeting held last evening in Daniger's cafe, Santa Ana.

Principal A. S. Redfern, of Fullerton high school, was elected secretary.

S. A. Exchange Club Fetes Guests

Headed by President Howard Cleveland, five members of the Long Beach Exchange club were guests at the regular meeting of the Santa Ana Exchange club yesterday at the Rossmore cafe.

Cleveland gave a report of the recent national convention of the organization at Salt Lake City and extended to the local club an invitation to attend a special social meeting at the Lakewood Country Club of Long Beach next Wednesday evening.

Orlyn Robertson made a plea for full support of the community chest campaign at the meeting. Les Eckel presided.

FALSE ALARM AT STORE

A short in wiring set off the burglar alarm in the Safeway store at 2323 North Main at 4 a. m. today. Officers L. C. Rogers and Herman Stahl reported upon investigating. They called Store Manager Leoman Creen, 1702 Bush, who went to the store and shut off the alarm.

Dub Doug 'Chief Wrong Way'

When Doug Corrigan, the umpteenth time, repeated his story of how he landed in Ireland after heading for California, the Otee Indian tribe decided to make it official and dubbed him "Chief Wrong Way" at Tulsa, Okla. In the picture above, Corrigan's famous grin is framed in a feathered head-dress given him by Otee Chief Frank Brown, right.

Our Children WEARING GLASSES

When a school child has been fitted with glasses, under the specialist's orders, he should wear them as directed, not as he chooses. Children rarely want to wear glasses. Their heads don't ache all the time, and they are not convinced that their poor work is caused by bad vision. Somebody told them so, but then, somebody is always telling them. "Glasses are a nuisance." So they are left at home, or, hidden in school bags or pockets. That is not good for the tired or defective eyes that need help.

Classroom work is trying on the pupils' eyes under the heat conditions. If the eyes are tired, or weak, or defective, they cannot withstand the strain as well as when they are perfect, and if perfect eyes tire what must happen to the already strained eyes?

Eyes are so precious, vision is so important, that children should be trained to protect themselves against any loss of seeing power. They do not know what we are talking about when we warn them about the light, and the close print and the way they are sitting and holding their books. They wish we would let them alone, and tell us so. But that does not lessen our responsibility. They show us they do not understand the importance of vision, so we have to make an extra effort to persuade them to care.

All children should be watched and warned and guided toward good sense in the use of their eyes, and their glasses. School children often have weaknesses, slight defects, which if properly met with glasses, disappear; but which, if neglected, remain to plague the children for all their days. Many times the glasses do their work so successfully that they can be laid away for good, but if they are left on the table, or hidden in the bookbag, they cannot do much toward that happy ending.

Children should be prepared beforehand when it is known they have to have glasses. They can be told about the need for them, and their protests answered kindly and truthfully. Girls need not always wear glasses to parties. Maybe using them while they read is enough. The same for the boys.

Encourage them by telling them about the workers who wear glasses. Men using drills wear glasses to protect their eyes from the light and from flying particles. Scientists use all sorts of lenses to add power to their eyes, as well as glasses for protection. So do jewelers, and miners and aviators. All intelligent workers use glasses to protect their eyes while they work. That includes school children.

Make certain that the glasses are really suited to the child's eyes. The recognized specialist is the one to assure this. Then watch to see that the glasses are always in good shape. They get rough usage, and it is easy to put them out of line. If that happens, if a lens is tilted ever so slightly off its true line, headaches and general discomfort will result, and of course the child will not want to wear them. He should not wear a glass that is not in perfect adjustment.

When glasses suit the child's eyes, and are accurately fitted to his nose and his ears, he will forget he has them on. They will help him so much that he will not want to forget them. In any case, train him to wear them faithfully and ask the teachers to help.

Mr. Patri has prepared a special booklet (No. 301) entitled "Obedience," in which he tells parents how to cope with the difficult problems of disobedience. Send for it, enclosing ten cents. ## 2326 Enrolled In Anaheim Schools

ANAHEIM, Sept. 22.—Anaheim's total school population was announced today as 2326, following registration of elementary students Monday and Tuesday at the city's seven grammar schools.

Total elementary registration was 1276. Superintendent M. A. Guier said a slight increase over figures for last year. High school registration previously had been announced as 1050.

BREAKFASTEERS TO INITIATE MEMBERS

Selection of three new members and a group of dramatic readings by Miss Jeanette Rodman, of Newport Beach, occupied the attention of the Santa Ana Breakfast club at 7:30 a. m. today at the Main cafeteria.

The three new members are Councilman Ernest Layton, J. W. Boring, and J. C. Metzgar. Boring is a past member of the Glendale Breakfast club. Jesse Elliott was program chairman at this morning's meeting. Hale Barker presided.

Johnson Meets Many S. A. Friends On Ocean Trip

Arriving yesterday on the S.S. Matsushima from Honolulu, Avery Johnson, 505 South Broadway, is convinced that city limits of Santa Ana extend quite as far as those of Los Angeles.

For in the several weeks of his stay in Honolulu, he met half a dozen former Santa Ana school friends, saw the news reel of H. M. Kinslow as inventor of the new motor now attracting so much attention, and at another motion picture theater, heard the suggestion of the young leading man to the star, "Let's run down to Santa Ana and get married."

On his trip across to the islands on the S.S. Lurline, Johnson was fortunate in meeting the Edgar Robinsons of Honolulu, in whose beautiful home at Black Point near the famous mansion of Doris Duke Cromwell, the tobacco heiress, he was lavishly entertained. This mansion has added interest for Santa Anans in the fact that Frederick Elliott, formerly of this city now of Honolulu, was one of the supervising architects.

Haskell Explains Transfer Deal

It was inadvertently stated in yesterday's Register that the Haskell Van and Storage company had been sold. This is not true, according to Floyd Haskell, operator of the company who stated that the only transaction between himself and Mr. and Mrs. H. Ward Holloman was the sale of the household moving department of the Santa Ana Transfer and Storage company.

Haskell will still continue to operate a heavy hauling service under the name of the Haskell Van and Storage company and any other use of the name Haskell Van and Storage company will be an infringement of contract, he stated today. "I have agreed to discontinue all household hauling but will continue to do heavy hauling under the Haskell Van and Transfer company," Haskell said.

Seek Boys In Air Rifle Damages

It is believed air rifles in the hands of miscreants, were responsible for broken windows at the women's clubhouse in Garden Grove, according to investigation of Deputy Sheriff Vern Mohn and William Trapp yesterday.

"We will make a regular patrol of the district in an effort to stop these youths from doing any more damage," the officers advised.

STILL "WANNA BUY A DUCK?" —BETTER GET IT NOW HINTS LETTER ON GUN CLUB FURORE

It seems that in all this uproar about gun clubs and their waste of water, there has been one inexcusable oversight. They've ranted about the precious lifeblood of the country, and how the playboys of the gunclubs are spilling it. They've raved about the rancher's thirsty acres, and about our roses turning back into cacti.

What About Them?
All that is tush and piffle. The real question is: what about the ducks? Who's thinking of them? Who, or for that matter, whom?

For instance, what about the little long-billed dowitcher. And what about the doughty little buff-head? Not to mention the tinier sandpipers.

And what, for instance, about our own little ruddy duck? Where, for instance, will our own little ruddy duck sit down when he's tired, if they don't have duck ponds for him?

Supervisors Cornered
What about that, eh? That's what Mrs. Bertha H. Fuller, of Inglewood, who is president of the California History and Landmarks club, wants to know. She wants to know it from the county supervisors.

The supervisors and the county water district directors were all sweated up over the gun clubs at last Tuesday's meeting, breathing hard and yelling even harder as they contemplated the rancher's acres. But they never even gave a thought to our own little-ruddy duck, until Mrs. Fuller's letter drew their dull, commercial minds back to the beautiful things of life.

Grow Impatient
The beautiful things of life include having duck ponds for tired ducks to rest upon, or happy ducks to disport themselves upon.

Otherwise, Mrs. Fuller clearly pointed out, the ducks would have nothing but solid and trampled reeds to sit upon.

She warned that "us women who love birds" are growing impatient at the annual complaint against the gun clubs and their duck ponds.

Heartless Gunners
Not that she holds with the gun clubs. "Gunners are heartless," she wrote, "but that is better than no water at all." She then listed, "the little long-billed dowitcher, the doughty little buff-head, the tinier sandpipers and our own little ruddy duck. The darlings."

"What in the world is the matter with our menfolks?" and "maybe you can tell me what ails our supervisors," were two of her queries.

"We can't, of course," murmured a bystander.

The letter came to a close. For a moment stragglers hovered near, and the complexion of five supervisors turned the hue of ruddy ducks. Then life went on again.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED

ENTERS GUILTY PLEA
Luther Arajo, 31, Olive, charged with failure to support his minor child, pleaded guilty today before Judge K. E. Morrison in Santa Ana justice court, and was ordered to appear Saturday at 9 a. m. for pronouncing of judgment.

Alfred Lalonde Is Called by Death
Alfred Lalonde, 80, of 620 North Birch street, passed away at his home yesterday. Born at Valley field, Quebec, Mr. Lalonde came to Santa Ana more than 28 years ago where he resided until the time of his death.

He is survived by ten children: Joseph, Alma, Philip, Leon, Alfred, Roch and Victor Lalonde, all of Santa Ana, and Arthur, Adele and Ruth Lalonde, all of Los Angeles.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. Friday at St. Joseph Catholic church. Place of burial has not been decided.

"Petters" Choose New Rendezvous
"Petters" were "petting" elsewhere when Officers W. E. B. Sherwood and J. B. Stephenson sought them on complaint of W. C. Smith, 314 South Broadway, early today. The "petters," Smith said, broke down his fence while trespassing on his property where Hickory street dead-ends at Myrtle street. The same officers investigated appearance of a prowler in the 400-block of West Walnut but, early today, could not find him. Further check-ups will be made, the officers stated.

The Opinion of EXPERTS!
The results of a survey in which twenty-three leading economists were questioned indicate that there will be decided improvement in business before the end of the year. One of the favorable factors listed was—"the solvency of banks and the extent of credit available!" That's the opinion of experts!

True, the banks of the nation are in excellent condition and have substantial cash reserves from which to make loans to responsible borrowers. Now, as in the past six months, banks are ready to co-operate fully whenever business is ready to move forward. On occasions when local business men have found it to their advantage and profit to borrow, their requests have been met with prompt accommodation at this bank. We have loaned over $3,500,000.00 since the first of the year—ample proof of our ability and willingness to co-operate for PROGRESS.

This bank welcomes applications for sound loan loans that will stimulate trade and industry in this territory. We invite you to talk over your requirements with our Loan Officers.

Lowenthal Death Mourned Locally

Calumit Camp, United Spanish War Veterans today mourned the death of one of its members, Dr. Henry Lowenthal, who died at the National Military Home Hospital of West Los Angeles, on Tuesday.

Comrade Lowenthal joined Calumit Camp on November 16, 1937, and served in Company D, Second New Jersey volunteers, Infantry during the Spanish-American war. The widow, Ada Lowenthal, of Garden Grove, and three young daughters survive. A military funeral will be held at the Home in the near future, the date not yet being decided.

BASED ON NEED OF 8 GROUPS

Basing their decision upon the minimum amounts needed by the eight charity and welfare agencies of Santa Ana to carry on their work effectively during the coming year, the board of directors of the Community Chest has set the 1938-39 campaign goal at $33,830, it was announced today by Bob Fernandez, president, of the Chest.

Fernandez announced that the campaign goal was set in accordance with recommendation made by the budget committee which has spent several weeks examining the needs of the eight organizations, their accomplishments during the past year, and considering their programs for the ensuing year.

Continue Services
The budget committee of the Chest is composed of Fred Merker, chairman; D. G. Tidball, C. L. Pritchard, R. B. Newcom, W. K. Hillyard and E. M. Sundquist. "This committee will continue its service throughout the year, making monthly examinations of the expenditures of the agencies to insure efficient operation and economical use of the funds donated by the people of Santa Ana," President Fernandez said.

In commenting upon the new budget, Orlyn M. Robertson, who as general campaign chairman is responsible for leading the fund raising effort, said, "The goal is a reasonable one, and I have no doubt that it can be raised."

Points to 1937 Success
Last year's successful campaign proved what can be done in Santa Ana. We should determine right now to go as far as possible over this goal for it represents the very minimum needs of our eight charity and welfare organizations, and more money could be used in every case to the greatest benefit of those served by these organizations."

Individual allotments and items which make up the $33,830 goal are as follows:

CAPACITY HOUSE EXPECTED AT SYMPHONY CONCERT TONIGHT

Indications point to a capacity house tonight at the high school auditorium for the opening concert in the fall series presented by the Federal Music Project. The symphony orchestra with Leon Eckles, popular conductor, wielding the baton, begins its gala premiere with the "Euryante" overture, by Von Weber.

Girls Scouts of America, $2700; Child Welfare committee of the P.-T. A., $1000; Ruth Home, $450; Salvation Army, $400; Y.M.C.A., $9000; Veterans' Welfare committee, $500; Y.W.C.A., $6000; Campaign expense, $2600; administration and collecting expense, $1300; reserve for loss in collections, $1500.

It was pointed out by the budget committee that some of the agencies have other sources of income, such as endowments, self supporting departments, and allotments from other Community Chests. The Santa Ana Chest allotment is to make up the difference between actual operating expenses and income derived from other sources.

Deputy Attacked, Files Charges

With his face battered by blows from fists of men he sought to arrest at a dance in Placentia last night, according to allegations, Special Deputy Sheriff W. E. Hauser appeared at the sheriff's office today to file complaints against two Fullerton men, alleged assailants.

In spite of the asserted attack upon him, Hauser arrested Lewis Lopez, 36, and Jesse M. Valdivia, 18, both of 204 East Truslow, Fullerton, and, with aid of Deputy Sheriffs Harvey Gulick and Frank Cagle, booked them at county jail at 11:25 p. m. yesterday. They are charged with three offenses, being drunk, fighting and resisting an officer.

The iguana is a favorite article of food in tropical America.

Impetuous, brilliant, the first theme is announced by wind instruments in full harmony which is developed magnificently until, after a crashing drum of full orchestra and vigorous choral beats, a transitional phrase for violin solo leads to the second theme which is of an infinitely tender nature. The entire overture is imbued with a certain old-fashioned but veritable pomp, possessing the spirit which admirers of Von Weber called the "chivalric spirit."

Authentic Reading
A work of tremendous force upon which the spotlight will be focused is Franck's elaborate "Symphony in D Minor." When the symphony was first performed in Paris in 1899 it astonished the musical authorities of that day. The 60-piece orchestra is prepared to give the great symphony an authentic reading.

The many friends of Edwin Geber and others who are interested in the progress of the young Orange County musician in his aspirations toward a concert career, are anticipating his initial bow tonight, featured as cello soloist. He will be heard in Lalo's "Concerto in D Minor." The Concerto requires performance in highly energetic and dynamic style which might prove a challenge to one of lesser talent than Geber.

The balance of the program will be devoted to Tchaikowsky's "March Slave," accounted one of the most dramatic of his shorter works, and to the rarely performed "Kikimora" scherzo from the pen of Anton Liadow.

The concert is due to start promptly at 8:15 p. m.

Freighter, U. S. Destroyer Crash

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 22.—(UP)—A collision off the entrance to San Diego harbor last night sent the American-Hawaiian freighter Washingtonian and Destroyer U. S. S. Henley back to the dock today with stove in bows.

The Henley, flagship of destroyer division 11, lost a motorboat and one anchor by the crash which occurred near the Point Loma entrance to the harbor.

The Washingtonian had several plates stove in. Both returned to dock under their own power. It was reported the Washingtonian, outbound for San Pedro, had just cleared the sea buoy, when the Henley, heading into the channel, collided with it.

TUSTIN WOMAN IS VICTIM OF ILLNESS

Mrs. Florilla Sedoris, 51, of West Main street, Tustin, died at her home today, after a brief illness.

Born in Virginia, Mrs. Sedoris had been a resident of Tustin for the past 26 years. She was a member of the Spurgeon Memorial Methodist church of Santa Ana. She is survived by her husband, L. Sedoris, four sons, A. P. and V. L. Sedoris, of Kansas, and Cleve and Roy Sedoris, of Tustin, and one daughter, Mrs. Minnie Miller, of Santa Ana.

Funeral announcement will be made later by Brown and Wagner mortuary.

Nurses Complete Plans for Frolic

Reports by lay members and a pot luck supper will feature the meeting of the State Organization For Public Health Nursing, Unit No. 8 of Orange County, Wednesday, September 23 at 6 p. m. at Santiago park. Following a custom of the past five years, the first gathering of the season will be given over to a social discussion of vacations of various members. Reports are expected to prove of interest. It is announced that notices are to be sent out offering suggestions for the supper menu. Miss Grace Denman is president of the unit.

ORANGE COUNTY JEWRY PLANS NEW YEAR CEREMONIES SUNDAY

Joining with members of their faith throughout the world, Orange county Jews will gather at synagogues and temples of Long Beach and Los Angeles and in their homes at sundown Sunday to usher in the Jewish New Year, Rosh Hashonah.

Setting of the sun Sunday will mark the beginning of the year 5699 of the Jewish calendar. The Jewish era is a religious one and its lunar calendar, with each month commencing on the new moon, is used only for estimating the feast and fast days of the religious year.

Similar To Festivals
This custom is similar to that of the various festivals of the Christian church, it was pointed out by one of the local Jewish leaders. For all ordinary purposes of life the customary civil calendar is used by Jew as well as gentile.

Rosh Hashonah, the most important religious season of the Jewish calendar, means "the beginning of the year" and is the first of ten days of penitence, during which all men are invited to judge themselves as they are being judged by the Deity.

Embraces Self-Judgment
It is regarded as a day of individual self-examination, self-criticism, and self-judgment. The pious Jew in his house of worship confesses his sins of the past twelve months and turns over a new leaf for the year to come. During the following week he is supposed to seek forgiveness from the fellow-men he may have transgressed against in order to secure complete heavenly forgiveness on "Yom Kippur," or the Day of Atonement which this year falls on October 5.

It is at this time, according to tradition, that the judgment is sealed.

Added Significance
Observance of the religious festival this year takes on greater significance, according to Jewish leaders, and attendance at various services is expected to be unusually large as the civil strife and racial animosities in the world have evoked in the hearts of American Jewry a deepened sense of responsibility.

Participation in the Community Chest drive, the Adult Education classes and the Parliamentary Procedure classes were discussed. Those present were: Principal Lyle Mitchell, Mesdames W. O. Mendenhall, A. H. Bradley, Russell Adkinson, Harold Smith, D. E. Winterbourne, Carl Young, H. J. Becker, A. A. Revell, H. C. Drown, E. F. McFadden, Ed Luhman, N. E. Wilson, W. B. Gibson and H. J. Thornburgh.

KIWANIS PICKS 1938 NOMINEES

Nomination of officers, selection of delegates for the state convention and an address on early life in Orange county were salient points in the Santa Ana Kiwanis club meeting yesterday in the Masonic temple.

Winners in the nomination were President, Lyle Mitchell and Carter Lane; vice president, Dr. Fred Earel and David B. Carmichael; treasurer, E. C. Diehl and Chester Hawk; and directors, W. B. Martin, Allison Honer, Dr. G. Emmett Raitt, C. B. Steele, Charles E. Walker and a tie between W. Dale Bell and Les Phillips. Phillips and Bell were scheduled to decide their contest by the toss of a coin today.

Selection of Envoys
On a motion by R. B. Newcom it was voted by the club that the nominees having the largest number of votes would be selected as envoys to the state convention at Santa Monica October 26 to 29. President Maurice Enderle being automatically a delegate the other two delegates chosen were Mitchell and Lane. Dr. Earel, Carmichael and Diehl were selected as alternates.

Following the business session John W. Winterbourne, member of the archeological study of Orange county under the adult education department, gave a lecture on early life in Orange county. George Parker was program chairman for the day and received acclaim for his travesty introduction of President Enderle.

Astronomy Subject Of School Talk

Members of the Roosevelt school P.-T. A. met yesterday in the school's auditorium. Mrs. H. P. Kiozely, president, called the meeting to order. Mrs. Louis Vorhis, was program chairman, and introduced Mrs. John Tessmann of the Santa Ana junior college faculty, who spoke on "Astronomy for the Child."

Mrs. Tessmann said "A growing interest in astronomy is due to the Griffith park planetarium, the new road to Mt. Wilson and the Palomar observatory. The purpose of astronomy is to teach children that the skies are beautiful and in this changing world of ours, the stars always remain the same."

introduced two new teachers, Miss Grace Jenkins and Miss Barbara Crawford. A reception for the teachers was held in the school library during the tea hour. Each teacher was presented with a bowl of pottery flowers by the executive board. The members of the Roosevelt executive board include: Mrs. H. P. Kiozely, Mrs. C. Van Duesen, Mrs. Richard Howland, Mrs. Arthur Kittleson, Mrs. O. V. Barton, Mrs. W. D. McLaughlin, Mrs. A. E. Kelly, Mrs. Louis Vorhis, Mrs. Howard Shugart, Mrs. Veda Mae Palm, Mrs. H. McCormas, Mrs. R. Netz, and Mrs. Spencer Elliott.

HERE ARE THE REAL FACTS ABOUT THE JAYSEE ISSUE THAT MERIT YOUR CONSIDERATION

1. Q. What will be the cost of the jaysee bond proposal?

A. The proposition calls for no tax increase the first year, a slight increase the second and third years, decreasing thereafter until the issue is paid. On a home worth $5000 the tax increase next year will be nothing, the second year about $1.50, and the third year about $3.00 WHICH IS LESS THAN A PENNY A DAY FOR THE AVERAGE HOME OWNER. During each year thereafter the amount will DECREASE. The present Santa Ana jaysee tax rate is 19 cents compared to the 40-cent tax rate for Fullerton District Junior College. This year the local board of education was able to reduce the combined school tax rate here 13 cents.

2. Q. Where will the college be located?

A. Many inquiries have been received concerning the location of the new plant. The Board of Education will see that the best available site is selected within the Santa Ana Jaysee district. The State Board of Education and the Public Works Administration will aid in making an impartial survey and the combined judgment of all will determine the exact location. This is necessary since the government is also contributing 45 per cent of the cost of the land and must approve the purchase. Because of this it is absolutely impossible to select a site for the plant before the money is voted.

3. Q. Do out-of-state students increase the cost of education to the Santa Ana district?

A. No. Last year the average daily attendance of the 91 out-of-state students was 65. These were scattered among '96 classes. Until the increase in these students causes the starting of extra classes there is only a nominal increased cost per class conducted. Six extra classes were required to care for them exclusively, teaching and other cost of which was less than $4,000. To offset this, $5850 was received from the state for their education. 36 of these students lived with their relatives here: 1 with a cousin, 18 with aunt or uncle, 13 with brother or sister and 4 with grandparents. A survey made last year indicated that each out-of-state student spent on an average of $30.00 a month in Santa Ana for food, clothing, shelter, books, amusement, etc., or about $25,000 for the year. The school Code prohibits the charging of tuition to out-of-state students.

HELP HIM GO ON

I have just returned from a year at Pensacola, Fla., where I received aviation training at the naval air station as an aviation cadet, and I understand that there is a bond election before the voters of Santa Ana for a new junior college plant.

As a graduate of Santa Ana junior college, I feel obliged to state that if it were not for the local junior college, I would not have been able to continue my education. Furthermore, the training I received here enabled me to compete very favorably with university graduates from many of the major universities throughout the country while in training as a student aviator.

I know that I am only one of many who have also found that the training that they received at Santa Ana Junior college has enabled them to find openings in their chosen fields.

WORKS IN BANK

A week before I was graduated from Santa Ana Junior college one of my teachers in the commercial department told me there was an opening for a stenographer in the trust department of the Bank of America and sent me to apply for the position.

I went to work immediately. My secretarial training enabled me to take the dictation and transcribe my notes easily, even though part of the work consisted of preparing long legal documents. Because I had had accounting in junior college, I was given a portion of the bookkeeping. This meant more salary than I would otherwise have received, as the other stenographer in the department had not had that training.

I have been in the trust department for five years and have been advanced to the handling of escrows and have had substantial raises in salary. The business law I studied in junior college has aided me in the escrow work.

The association where I am employed has been so well satisfied with the junior college graduates they have hired that when they have a vacancy they call on the college to send them applicants.

Uncle Sam is requested to contribute a total of $315,000 toward the project. Can't we afford to donate our share for the new campus?

Santa Ana hopes to have a population of 50,000 by 1940. What better attraction could the city offer than a first-class college plant?

COUNTY CHAMBER TO TALK TRANSPORTATION

Jimmie Fidler in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 22.—The rise of Marie Wilson, besides being a Hollywood miracle of the first order, ought to be an object lesson to some of her envious rivals. A lesson in the value of friendliness, modesty and good manners. Unquestionably Marie is a clever actress, but the magic ingredient in her flight to stardom is personal, off-screen charm. She has exactly as many devoted friends as she has acquaintances.

To cite an example: I have never written a complimentary line about Marie without receiving either a "thank-you" note or an appreciative telephone call. Being unused to such gestures, I was distrustful at first, but distrust can't weather her obvious sincerity for long. And being human, I have of course felt a glow because of her appreciation. I hear some variation of the same story from everyone who talks about her. Prop men, electricians, extras and laborers—everyone of the many who have worked with her has an anecdote to prove that she is the most considerate, friendly youngster in Filmmville history.

In Whittown, Marie would be just another mighty nice girl; in Hollywood she is a complete standout. The average star is so wrapped up in ego that the only time she notices her fellow creatures is when one of them accidentally treads on her sacred toes.

STATE EXPERT TO BE PRESENT

Thorough discussion of transportation conditions in Orange county is expected to take place at the monthly dinner meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce at the Golden Bear cafe in Huntington Beach next Tuesday at 6:30 p.m.

The principal speaker will be Arthur C. Jenkins, engineer for the state railroad commission. According to an announcement of the meeting sent out by Harry May, secretary, "Mrs. Jenkins is making an extensive study of transportation problems of Southern California and his comments on conditions noted in Orange county may be none too complimentary."

Commission Puzzled
The commission is said to be very much puzzled by our seeming indifference to the handicaps under which our present carriers are trying to function. Action will be taken on the proposed purchase of beach frontage between Newport Beach and Huntington Beach. Dr. C. G. Huston of Costa Mesa, will give a report on safety. Frank Crocker is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Maybe It's The Luck O' the Irish

Pat Kelley of the Main cafeteria went to bat twice and got two hits on his hunting expedition to the Bishop country. He returned here yesterday with the two big bucks shown in the picture. One of them weighed 197 pounds, the other 148. Both were four-pointers. Mr. and Mrs. Kelley were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Oakley and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schlueter.

BOGART CALLED TO S. A. CHURCH

Perry Smith Bogart, graduate of the Westminster choir school of Princeton, New Jersey, has been called to the First Methodist church as minister of music and education. He formerly was a director of the North Carolina Music Festival association. For the past three years, he had been minister of music in the First Presbyterian church of San Francisco.

Bogart will introduce the Westminster choir plan of choirs for all ages. The adult choir meets at 6:30 on Thursday evenings. The

Exciting Tale Of Rat Centers In Police Rooms

This is the tale of a rat. Time:

5:15 p. m., Wednesday. Place: Assistant Police Chief Harry Fink's office and desk sergeant's room at city hall. Acting City Judge John Landell, Desk Sergeant C. L. Neuschwanger, Officers Richard M. Bradley, W. H. Heard, L. H. Nicholson and C. V. Adams—and John Vieira Jr., son of Custodian John B. Vieira of city hall.

Enter rat, stealthily. (Loud yell from young Vieira.) "Look out! Look, there!" (Officers scurry about, some searching for clubs, visitors doing likewise or holding pant-legs high while occupying desks or chairs.)

Nicholson grabs Judge Landell's cane. Heard a transom pole. Big war on Mr. rat, the six-inch alley-type, begins; chase leads in and out of hallway and finally back in Fink's quarters where desperate rodent is cornered. Amid much laughing, shouting and pounding, Mr. Rat is booped none too gently over head. Exit rat. Curtain.

Minnesotans Plan Saturday Frolic

The annual fall picnic reunion of former Minnesota residents will be held all day Saturday in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles.

Each county in the state will open its own headquarters and registers for enrollment. Hot coffee will be served and silk souvenir badges supplied. A program will follow the basket picnic dinner hour and will include brief addresses, music and community singing. The Olson Family Hillbillies will supply the entertainment. Everyone from Minnesota, residents here or visiting is invited.

PERRY S. BOGART

young people's choir for those of high school and college age will practice on Wednesday evenings at 6:30. A junior choir for children, ages eight to eleven, meets Wednesday 3 p.m. and the intermediate choir for ages 12 to high school age, on Thursday at 3 p.m.

Instruction Planned
In addition to the regular choir work, boys classes will be held in which the members will be instructed in posture, breathing tone production, and other mannerisms. In two months, try-outs will be held for an acapella choir. The members of this choir will be chosen from the young people and adult choirs. The members of the acapella choir will receive one free private vocal lesson each week.

Bogart will work in the church school and with the boys' clubs. Anyone interested in singing, dramatics, the church school, or boys' work is invited to phone or visit Bogart's studio at the church.

West To Address Lathrop Group

With Franklin G. West, Santa Ana attorney, scheduled to be the principal speaker of the evening, the Julia C. Lathrop P.-T.-A. will hold its next regular session in the school auditorium next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Attorney West will speak on "State of the Educational Network."

At a recent meeting of the Lathrop executive board, it was decided to hold a rummage sale on September 30 and October 1. The sale will be held at 402 East Fourth street, according to the committee.

CLERK SMITH PROVES SELF AS COUNTY'S "STRONG MAN" OF POLITICS WITH 33,110 VOTES

County Clerk Basil J. Smith proved himself the "strong man" of Orange county politics in his first campaign, by running away with high-vote honors at the recent primary election, according to final and official returns just filed with the secretary of state.

Smith's primary vote of 33,110 led all others. It was 104 votes ahead of Assessor James Sleeper's total, which was 32,996. Although he had an opponent, Tax Collector J. C. Lamb ran third with 32,658. County School Superintendent Ray Adkinson had fourth position with 32,436. Excepting Lamb these candidates were without opposition, other than a write-in candidate against Sleeper, who received 244 votes. Six other scattering votes were cast in the assessor's race, and seven for superintendent of schools. There were no votes against Smith, who was therefore the only unanimous choice of the voters.

Many Others Included
The official totals for county and state candidates, include the following:

Assessor—Sleeper 32,996, Dan-son 244, scattering 6.

ATTEND LEGION MEETINGS
MIDWAY CITY, Sept. 22.—A number of Midway City residents, including members of Legion post No. 555 and the auxiliary attend sessions of the American Legion in Los Angeles this week. These included Commander and Mrs. Robert Keller, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Follies, Miss Emmaetta Hart, Richard Arnett, Jack Bland and the Hall, Harold Spafford, B. Taylor, S. A. Miller and Gene Mixer families.

Noise-Making Motorists Hunted

Speed-minded or noise-making motorists were being sought today by police in two sections of the city on complaint of annoyed citizens.

One citizen, living in the 400-block of East Bishop, reported several automobiles have been making the street a race track practice course. A man living in the 800-block of North Flower complained that he has been disturbed each evening by a motorcyclist who has no muffler on his vehicle. The motorcyclist has caused the disturbance shortly after 5 a. m. Checkups so far have failed to locate the annoyers.

S. A. Detective Sees His First Parade, Likes It

Detective Sergeant Hunter Leach's face is plenty red today, not from embarrassment but because, strange as it may seem, he went to Los Angeles for the American Legion convention and saw the first parade of its kind in his life.

"And believe me, I wouldn't have missed that parade for all of the tea in China!" the red-nosed officer exclaimed. Officer Leach, heretofore either has been a part of officialdom's parades or has been on traffic duty and too busy to watch the procession.

Taking his lunch and dinner with him, Officers Leach went to the Los Angeles coliseum before 9 a. m. when the National Legion parade began entering the stadium grounds and watched the parade every minute of the day until the last Legion post passed in review—at 6:05 p. m.

"I've never seen anything like it before in my life," he said. "It was great. I didn't mind the sun at all during the day although I figure now, if I hadn't worn my Legion cap, the sun would have got me." He had high praise for the Orange county Legion units and features in the parade. "I really found out that 'Love a parade!'"

If a day's supply of fruits and vegetables sufficient for New York City were on one train, the train would be more than 60 miles long.

We All Need the Junior College—

1. The student needs a new college with adequate laboratories and shops so that he may "learn by doing."
2. The faculty needs comfortable housing conditions so as to render 100 per cent efficient service to every boy and girl.
3. The local property owner needs a new jaycee to keep Santa Ana growing and in step with other progressive communities who have recently built new junior colleges; he cannot afford to let $3 or $4 a year in taxes stand between an efficient plant and the present inefficient setup.

We believe you should vote "Yes" on the bonds tomorrow and help solve the college problem that is facing the community.

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES

Contract Club Resumes Its Pleasant Semi-monthly Sessions

Resuming the semi-monthly sessions which have brought so much pleasure and friendliness during the past few years to Wednesday Contract club members, that group met yesterday to enjoy the hospitality of Mrs. H. B. Van Dien, 517 Cypress avenue.

There was but one absentee member, Mrs. Benjamin J. MacMullen, founder of the club, who is now on an extended eastern trip with Mr. MacMullen. Mrs. Emil Wagner made a pleasant substitute for this evening's meeting, at which another guest, Mrs. William Taylor Stearns, also was entertained. It was more or less a "farewell appearance" for Mrs. Stearns, as she was just on the eve of departure for her home in New York after an extended visit with Mrs. Sara Johnston Haddon.

A little farewell gesture on the part of the New York visitor, and one very much in keeping with that charm she has exerted on all friends of her hostess, was the gift of flowers which she made Mrs. Van Dien. There were two great clusters, one of zinnias and the other of asters, and some of the blossoms were used for table arrangement, while others glowed about the home.

Mrs. Van Dien took first place in the afternoon's contract play, with Mrs. Haddon as her closest competitor. Mrs. Ray C. Hoiles and Mrs. Howard Kapp tied for third place. An attractive guest gift was won by Mrs. Stearns.

Mrs. Van Dien's sister club members present included with Mrs. Flood, Mrs. Haddon, Mrs. Hoiles and Mrs. Rapp, Mrs. M. D. Borgmeyer, Mrs. Norman C. Swales, Mrs. H. T. Downing, Mrs. Mark Lacy, Mrs. A. I. McElenthin and Mrs. George Sattler, with the two guests, Mrs. Wagner and Mrs. Stearns, completing the group.

Sophomore Girls Are Guests of Tri-Y Club

New sophomore students at Santa Ana High school were guests of Tri-Y Girl Reserves Monday evening when they held their first meeting of the autumn in Y. W. C. A. rooms. Miss La Von Gold, Tri-Y president, was in charge.

Miss Marian Kenyon outlined events marking the Tri-Y calendar this season, interest groups were planned, with the following leaders to preside: the Misses Roberta Corcoran, newspaper; Marjorie Randall, drama; Ruth Ames, craft; Marjorie McCulloch, library; Vera Belle MacCormack, first aid.

Miss Betty Neff led group singing, with Miss Katherine Budd at the piano.

LUNCHEON AT NEWPORT

Members of one of the city card-playing groups were in Newport Beach today for covered-dish luncheon in the home of the Misses Gertrude and Louise Montgomery of Santa Ana, who have been at their beach home for the summer.

In the group with the hostesses were Mesdames J. L. McBride, Walter Hickey, Mabel Lambert, William F. Waddell, A. F. Burckett, Florence Trent, Nell Hunt and Melvin C. Keaton.

Dinner Party Observes Eighty-first Birthday Anniversary

Hosts Monday evening to a group of close friends in their home, 1908 North Parlor street, Mr. and Mrs. Allen F. Selbe made the occasion a compliment to Mr. Selbe's father, J. L. Selbe, on the 81st anniversary of his birth.

A long table beautifully arranged with flowers, was so pleasant a scene when guests were assembled for the birthday dinner, that pictures were taken to serve as a memento of the happy event. "Father" Selbe, as he is affectionately known, is fortunate in having excellent health, so enjoyed the dinner party and subsequent card play, fully as much as did his friends.

He received an array of birthday gifts from the group which included with his son and daughter-in-law, the Allen F. Selbes, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Rogerson, Mrs. Helen Walsh, Mrs. Marie Jost and Tom Heath.

Mexican Supper Given For Shiloh Circle

Mrs. Nellie Douglas Harlin was hostess at a charmingly arranged affair Tuesday afternoon and evening when she received members of Shiloh Circle, Ladies of the G.A.R. in the gardens of her home, 1023 North Custer street.

An afternoon spent informally came to a delightful climax with the serving of Mexican supper prepared by Mrs. Frank Laguna. Fruits of inviting variety formed a centerpiece at a long table spread with a bright yellow cloth whose napkins were of appropriate design. Mrs. Harlin had fashioned the clever little green and red cellophane nutcrackers filled with candies and nuts. Tiny figurines completed the effective setting. Enchiladas and salad formed the main course, which was followed by the serving of cake with fruit punch, iced tea or coffee.

Present with Mrs. Harlin and her son, Bert Harlin were Mesdames Maude Wallace, Emma Wright, Sarah M. G. Brown, Melissa Zimmerman, Alice Kull, Laura Sanborn, Mary King, Edith Cardwell, Kate Johnson, Louise Butz, Lulu Blacketter, Mattie Conkle, Lulu Hull, Laura Wilkes.

Dinner Party Follows Wedding in Chapel

Wedded Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Santa Ana Wedding chapel, Miss Kathryn Wood and Talbot Paulus of Los Angeles were feted at a beautifully appointed wedding dinner that evening at Danigers.

Pointed wedding dinner that evening, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wood and a brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McDonald, were hosts at the affair. The occasion also marked the McDonalds' 20th wedding anniversary.

Decorations for the dinner were in bridal white, with candles, gladioluses and carnations providing an effective background.

In the group with the newly-married couple and the two host couples were Mr. and Mrs. George Herick, Miss Cynthia Hess, Mrs. Elizabeth Hampton, Mrs. Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Cassie, and W. Sullivan.

Mr. and Mrs. Paulus, who are spending their honeymoon in San Francisco, will reside in Los Angeles, where Mr. Paulus is manager of one of the larger stores.

Announcements

Gardenettes will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock with Mrs. L. William Hayes, 937 West Camille street.

Panhellenic society will launch its year's activities Tuesday night when Mrs. Loyal K. King will open her home, 2346 North Park boulevard, for a general get-together of members. Mrs. R. C. Harris, president, and her staff of officers, which includes Mrs. King, will be hostesses for the evening which will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Friendly Circle class members of First M. E. church will share a dinner meeting tomorrow night at 6:30 o'clock in the social hall.

Daughters and Sons of Union Veterans will join in a covered dish dinner tomorrow night at 6:30 o'clock in modern Woodman hall. On the dinner committee from Sarah A. Rounds tent will be Bertha Belt, Emma Belt and Esther Gardner.

Damascus White Shrine members having birthdays in August or September will be honored at Friday night's meeting at 8 o'clock in the temple. The organization will hold rummage sales tomorrow and Saturday in the building located at the northwest corner of Fourth and French streets.

Flower Arrangements Provide Theme For Section Program

Flower arrangements for home enjoyment on every occasion were provided by Mrs. Opal Scarborough, "gardener of the air" yesterday afternoon at the opening meeting of Eboli Home and Garden section in the home of Mrs. F. J. Herschler, 1815 North Flower street.

Members provided some of their prettiest flower containers for Mrs. Scarborough's use while she arranged autumn flowers in informal as well as formal style. Especially effective were gladioluses in the modern manner, with all stalks in light hues surrounded by shorter stemmed flowers in deeper tones.

Mrs. Herschler, leader, conducted business matters. Her officers include Mrs. Cassius Paul, secretary; Mrs. Harry Jackson, social membership chairman; Mrs. John McCoy, program, and Mrs. Robert Heffner, publicity.

Mrs. McCoy presented Ted Blandings' list of flowers and shrubs suitable for fall planting. Mrs. J. E. Paul gave a review of the recent county-wide flower show.

Mrs. Herschler, Mrs. John Ebersole and Mrs. James Merigold were hostesses, serving refreshment at the close of the afternoon, when Mrs. J. E. Paul poured tea.

Present were Mesdames Kenneth Coulson, Lloyd Folger, John McCoy, Clarence Slemmons, Eugene Robinson, Carl Orbach, Louis Fitcher, H. Raymond South, Cassius Paul, James Merigold, John Ebersole, Harry Jackson, LeRoy Burns, J. E. Paul, Charles F. Smith, Harold Moosaw, Robert Heffner and F. J. Herschler.

Long-time Friends Have Dinner Together

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Harris, 1077 West Fourth street, celebrated their wedding anniversary recently by entertaining a group of old-time friends at dinner at the Rossmore.

Reminiscing of early days which members spent together in Lebanon, Mo., provided an enjoyable feature of the evening. Conversations were extended the hosts and Mrs. Harris, George Fulbright, who also observed their wedding anniversary at this time.

Present with the hosts were Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Coffman of this city; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harris, Fontana; Mr. and Mrs. Athol Rogers, Inglewood; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ashenburt, La Habra, and Mr. and Mrs. Fulbright of Redlands.

Harmony Bridge Club

Guests sufficient to form half a dozen tables of bridge during the afternoon were received Tuesday by Mrs. Alice Tolhurst and Mrs. Mildred Pardy, hostesses to Harmony Bridge club members at luncheon in Rossmore cafe.

Tables were brilliant with zinnias in every hue. At the conclusion of luncheon, hostesses and guests proceeded to the lounge of Masonic temple where tables were in readiness for the games session.

Mrs. Nellie Young and Mrs. Lillian Dawson held prize winning scores in contract, and Mrs. Irene Cook and Mrs. Leo Cole held similar ratings among auction players.

For their next meeting on Tuesday, October 4, club members will share a no-host luncheon at the Rossmore in advance of the afternoon of bridge play.

You And Your Friends

Russell Griffin of Janesville, Wis., who is attending the Legion convention in Los Angeles this week, spends part of the time with his sons, Mrs. Josephine Antisdel, 412 Hale street, and Mrs. C. H. Griffin, 835 North Parlor street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Adams, 1017 North Ross street, had as dinner guests last night, their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William W. Adams Jr., of Oceanside. Completing the family party were the hosts' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick McMan and daughters, Kitty Jean and Joan, who are making their home here. Formerly they resided in Ventura.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lippincott and sons, George and Dick, 1061 West Fourth street, are completing plans to move October 1 to 2336 North Main street. Mr. Lippincott, proprietor of Sun Battery company, will conduct his business at 2332 North Main street, a new location.

Mrs. Jean Rohlander of Los Angeles, has returned to this city to make her home for the winter months, and is with Mrs. B. B. Kellogg, 822 South Birch street.

Miss Emma Kading of Exeter yesterday concluded a few days' visit with Mrs. Maude Miller, 721 South Birch street, and left for Long Beach to spend some time with relatives and friends before continuing to her home.

Mrs. Bruce Bilger of Salt Lake City, the former Miss Gwdo Hoyle, plans to leave Friday for her home after two weeks' visit with her mother, Mrs. Ethel Hoyle, 1901 North Broadway.

Mrs. William Taylor Stearns of New York City left this morning on the Streamliner after a several months' visit with Mrs. Sara Johnston Haddon, 202 1-2 South Sycamore street. She plans to travel by way of Canada.

Mrs. Delphina Lopez, cashier at the George Dunton agency, North Main street, returned last night from a Los Angeles hospital where she underwent a tonsillectomy early this week. She is now recuperating at her home, 710 East Third street.

Mrs. and Mrs. Porter Edmunds, 1850 East Fruit street, and W. T. Merigold of Orange have returned from a two weeks' vacation trip north. They spent a week at Klamath, Calif., salmon fishing, then continuing to Grant's Pass, Ore.

FLAPPER FANNY

By Sylvia

"Gee, we had fun! Fan, promise me right now you'll give ME a surprise party my next birthday."

Bridge Club's Fourth Birthday Marked At Dinner

Last night's monthly party shared by Four-Four-Four club members assembled at Danigers bore special significance, since the occasion marked the fourth birthday of the little card-playing group.

Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Loughton. Gladioluses in a shallow bowl adorned the table, which was lighted by hurricane lamps and individual candles in gumdrop holders at each place.

The group continued to the Loughton home, 2050 South Birch street for card play. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McAdoo won prizes for their high and low scores.

Present with the Wilsons, the McAdoods and Mr. and Mrs. Loughton were Messrs. and Mesdames Nyllyn Hurd, Rexford McGill and Ward Pettis.

Pythian Sisters Share Gala Surprise Party

Past chiefs and other members of Tustin Pythian Sisters assembled Tuesday evening in the G. V. Linsbard home, 415 West First street, for a surprise party marking the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Yvette Shedd, most excellent chief of the lodge.

The honoree's mother and two sisters, Mrs. Linsbard, Mrs. Henry Egger and Miss Jeanne Linsbard were assisted in planning the affair by Mrs. Laura Sanborn.

Mrs. Linsbard and one of his piano pupils, Jack Gould, played a group of selections during the evening. Home-made cakes and ice cream were served at the close of an informal affair. There were gifts for Mrs. Shedd.

In the group were Mesdames Emma Coehms, Bertha Trickey (Ruby Frayer), Pearl Furtch, Gladys Piersen, Lottie Nordstrom, Leona Alderman, Antoinette Fenevy, Margaret Culver, Etta Powers, Edith Mathews, Sara May Mathews, Ann Springer, Emma (Christensen), Mabel Hannaford, Virginia Forney and Miss Ethel Alderman, with the hostess group and Mrs. Shedd.

Calumpit Auxiliary

Calumpit Auxiliary, U.S.W.V. members are anticipating a visit from Department President Clara Fowler, who will be with the group at a meeting Tuesday evening, October 18 in Knights of Columbus hall, taohraioin/f.N.shrdl Columbus hall.

Plans for the approaching event were made Tuesday evening when President Luella Randel conducted a regular meeting in the hall. Appointed to serve on the committee the night of Mrs. Fowler's visit were Ann Springer, Hattie Williams, Ruth Hess, Bertha Helmer, Lulu Chatain and Dena Isbell.

One new member was accepted, and one application for membership in the auxiliary was received. Plans were made for a chicken dinner and bazaar to be held early in November. Announcement was made that camp and auxiliary will hold covered-dish dinner Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. in the hall.

Next meeting of the Sewing Circle will be held Wednesday, October 12, in the home of Mrs. Bertha Dixon, 1138 South Ross street. Latest meeting of the group took place in the Costa Mesa home of Mrs. Della Cook, it was announced.

Announcements

Mrs. Bruce Bilger of Salt Lake City, the former Miss Gwdo Hoyle, plans to leave Friday for her home after two weeks' visit with her mother, Mrs. Ethel Hoyle, 1901 North Broadway.

Bridge Club's Fourth Birthday Marked At Dinner

Last night's monthly party shared by Four-Four-Four club members assembled at Danigers bore special significance, since the occasion marked the fourth birthday of the little card-playing group.

Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Loughton. Gladioluses in a shallow bowl adorned the table, which was lighted by hurricane lamps and individual candles in gumdrop holders at each place.

The group continued to the Loughton home, 2050 South Birch street for card play. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McAdoo won prizes for their high and low scores.

Present with the Wilsons, the McAdoods and Mr. and Mrs. Loughton were Messrs. and Mesdames Nyllyn Hurd, Rexford McGill and Ward Pettis.

Pythian Sisters Share Gala Surprise Party

Past chiefs and other members of Tustin Pythian Sisters assembled Tuesday evening in the G. V. Linsbard home, 415 West First street, for a surprise party marking the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Yvette Shedd, most excellent chief of the lodge.

The honoree's mother and two sisters, Mrs. Linsbard, Mrs. Henry Egger and Miss Jeanne Linsbard were assisted in planning the affair by Mrs. Laura Sanborn.

Mrs. Linsbard and one of his piano pupils, Jack Gould, played a group of selections during the evening. Home-made cakes and ice cream were served at the close of an informal affair. There were gifts for Mrs. Shedd.

In the group were Mesdames Emma Coehms, Bertha Trickey (Ruby Frayer), Pearl Furtch, Gladys Piersen, Lottie Nordstrom, Leona Alderman, Antoinette Fenevy, Margaret Culver, Etta Powers, Edith Mathews, Sara May Mathews, Ann Springer, Emma (Christensen), Mabel Hannaford, Virginia Forney and Miss Ethel Alderman, with the hostess group and Mrs. Shedd.

Calumpit Auxiliary

Calumpit Auxiliary, U.S.W.V. members are anticipating a visit from Department President Clara Fowler, who will be with the group at a meeting Tuesday evening, October 18 in Knights of Columbus hall, taohraioin/f.N.shrdl Columbus hall.

Plans for the approaching event were made Tuesday evening when President Luella Randel conducted a regular meeting in the hall. Appointed to serve on the committee the night of Mrs. Fowler's visit were Ann Springer, Hattie Williams, Ruth Hess, Bertha Helmer, Lulu Chatain and Dena Isbell.

One new member was accepted, and one application for membership in the auxiliary was received. Plans were made for a chicken dinner and bazaar to be held early in November. Announcement was made that camp and auxiliary will hold covered-dish dinner Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. in the hall.

Next meeting of the Sewing Circle will be held Wednesday, October 12, in the home of Mrs. Bertha Dixon, 1138 South Ross street. Latest meeting of the group took place in the Costa Mesa home of Mrs. Della Cook, it was announced.

Family Group Arranges Surprise Party On Mother's Birthday

A happy observance of Mrs. S. L. Aubin's birthday anniversary, was put into effect this week by members of her family, who gathered at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Aubin, 122 Orange avenue, as a surprise to the celebrant.

Observance of the day began earlier for her however, with the arrival of the postman, who bore an unusual number of greeting cards and messages for her, the majority of them containing lovely handkerchiefs in wide variety. All of her children arrived at the home in a group, singing "Happy Birthday" and bearing gifts and quantities of flowers. They also provided delicious home-made cakes and ice cream to be served.

Mrs. Aubin told of former parties which were as much a surprise to her as this happy event. One was on her sixteenth birthday, and another was over 30 years ago when with her husband, the late H. Clay Kellogg, a civil engineer, she left to establish a home in the Hawaiian Islands. At that time, Relief Corps and G. A. R. members and other friends, presented her with a watch and chain as a bon voyage and birthday gift. Guests at the latest party were the J. A. Mauerhans of Garden Grove with their children, Lois Ann and James Jr. (Mrs. Mauerhan was Sibyl Kellogg); the L. Frank Kelloggs of Anaheim with their children, L. Frank Jr., William Clay and Joan Marie, and Mrs. Kellogg's mother, Mrs. William Gregh; Miss Helen Kellogg of the home; Mr. and Mrs. H. Clay Kellogg Jr. of Garden Grove with their children, Jeanne Avalon, Marilyn and H. Clay Kellogg III, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Eugene Chast and daughters, Rose Marie and Marjorie Helen of this city. Mrs. Chast was Miss Rose Kellogg. Dr. and Mrs. Aubin completed the happy family party.

The Chasts had many interesting tales to relate of the 6000 mile automobile trip from which they just returned. They visited Salt Lake City and Denver, toured the Black Hills of South Dakota, and Yellowstone National park and went as far north as Vancouver, B. C.

Bridge Club Members Meet in Placentia

Miss Gladys Edwards' attractive home at Placentia was opened to Native Daughters' Card club Tuesday night for a pleasant affair climaxed with the serving of two-course supper. Miss Edwards was hostess.

Many flowers brightened the living room and the den where tables were set up for card play. Winning prizes were Mesdames Guy Gardner, W. H. Mize, W. A. West and Rose Ford. Embroidered linens spread tables at which supper was served. Ice cream roll and cakes formed the dessert course. Mrs. Hazel Flaherty added to the enjoyment of the occasion by reading fortunes for guests.

Present with the hostesses were Mesdames Edward Wagner, Robert Farrar, Walter Hickey, W. H. Mize, W. A. West, Don Crumley, Gordon Evenson, J. A. Gant, Guy Gardner, Walter Cook, Eunice Fox, Rose Ford, Florence Watson, Christine McFarland, Mary Mathews, Grace Cook, Hazel Flaherty and the Mesdames Caroline Ott, Eloise Hickey and Johanna Lemke.

Names Are Embroidered On Tablecloth for Club Hostess

Summer travel trails and vacation life provided endless matters of interest to be discussed by Homophenous club members Tuesday afternoon, when entertained in the Fullerton home of Mrs. Herbert C. Foss, 119 Glenwood avenue.

Mrs. Foss invited her guests for luncheon, an interval made all the pleasanter by the many-hued zinnias gracing the tables. She had requested each guest to bring her thimble, and reason for this was explained at the conclusion of luncheon. For the hostess produced a tablecloth on which each one present traced and embroidered her own name, so that Mrs. Foss will always have an interesting memento of the day.

It included the signatures of Miss Ruth Bartlett, teacher of the group, Miss Pauline Parsons, Miss Marian Walker and Mesdames Laura M. Rigdon, Oscar Huffine, Maude Bauman, Jessie Hoffman Cole, Gertrude McMaster, Andrew H. Wilson, Alice Scheel, Jo Lowell, Walter P. Rurup, Ross C. Huber, Harvey Groover, Geo. W. King, R. O. Smith, Edwin A. Starr, Lillie G. Jackson, Hugh Osborn, E. E. Bruns, L. E. Plummer, C. E. Cook, Ethel T. Charlton, Gladys E. Brown.

INFORMAL AFFAIR

Mrs. Robert Heffner received a little group of guests for bridge play Tuesday afternoon in her home, 1527 West Eighth street. Mrs. Carl Orbach, Mrs. H. Raymond Smith, Mrs. Harry Jackson and Mrs. N. Carleton Smith shared the hospitality.

Adding to the enjoyment of the affair was Mrs. Jackson's account of her summer tour of Europe. Mrs. Heffner served dessert to precede other events of the afternoon.

Mixing Bowl

BY ANN MEREDITH

If one could reach around and pat oneself on the back, the action would be fully justified if the back-patting were induced by pride in a pickle recipe, tried for the first time.

You can still indulge in pride, and with absolute safety, with this recipe to go by:

Sliced Sweet Cucumber Pickle
1st Day

50 cucumbers, small dill size
Very strong brine to cover cucumbers for 7 days (keep in cool place)

7th Day

Cover drained cucumbers with fresh cold water for 3 days.

10th Day

Slice in thin strips or across and simmer 30 minutes in 1 gallon water combined with 2 table-spoons alum.

After the alum boiling, rinse in clear water.

Syrup: boil together, 5 cups sugar, 1 quart white vinegar and a small bag of spices, containing piece of green ginger root, 2 sticks cinnamon, broken, and same amount of whole mace.

Place sliced cucumbers in jar, pour the boiling syrup over, and repeat the re-boiling and pouring of syrup for 3 days. On 3rd day, seal in clean hot jars, filling jars with syrup (make additional unsipped syrup if necessary). While two weeks time is required, these pickles are well worth the trouble.

The color list is available on these terms: Contribute a tested recipe or an idea for other housekeepers and enclose a return-addressed stamped envelope.

Dessert Bridge Party Given Charming Party Setting

When Mrs. John J. Vernon received a group of guests Tuesday night in her home, 2020 Santiago avenue, she presided over a pleasantly informal affair for which a pretty background had been arranged.

There were zinnias and petunias in the living room, where dessert was served at tables centered with crystal vases of red roses. Mrs. Charles Rumell, Mrs. Milton Johnson and Mrs. F. A. Burkett assisted at this time. The lace-spread dining room table presented a refreshingly cool appearance with white tapers and a centerpiece of white asters.

Later in the evening while bridge play was in progress, Mrs. Vernon served iced fruit punch. Prizes in cards went to Mesdames Joe Steele, Harvey Dimmitt and Kenneth Coulson. Others present were Mesdames F. J. Hershiser, Milton Johnson, Charles Rumell, Ray Wyckoff, F. A. Burkett, W. J. Morrison, Harold Maylen, Lloyd Folger, Ralph W. Barker and the hostess.

HERE FROM NEW YORK

Interesting guests this week in the home of Mrs. Walter H. Paul and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Orth, 919 Minter street, have been Captain and Mrs. Joseph Murtha of New York City, who are making an extensive automobile tour of the country. Captain Murtha is with the 105th Field Artillery, New York City National Guards. Mrs. Murtha is a close relative of their hosts.

P.-T. A. OPENS ROSTER APPEAL

The annual membership drive of P.-T. A. workers will begin in earnest next Monday and will last one week, Mrs. James Givens, council president, announced today following a conference at the home of Mrs. Harry LeBar.

Much enthusiasm was expressed at the conference, attended by all membership chairman, Mrs. Deane Smiley, several heads of local associations, Mrs. Givens and Mrs. LeBar. A decision to use poster and promise of special treat for the class in each school bringing in the most new P.-T. A. members during the week, was made by the group.

Home And The School
"All agreed that an organization which has such far-reaching effect in the lives of every boy and girl in our state should have the full support of all people," the leader stated.

"As all P.-T. A. workers know, the association is bringing the home and the school closer together by giving parents and teachers a better understanding of each other and their common responsibilities by actually improving conditions affecting the health and education of all children."

FRANKLIN P.-T. A. MEETS FIRST TIME

The Franklin school P.-T. A. held the first meeting of the school year in the kindergarten room of the school this week. The junior college bond issue received the attention of the members. The discussion on the bonds was led by Mrs. Timmons, speaker for the afternoon.

The principal, Mrs. Dudley, introduced her teaching staff after a short business session. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. R. C. Rich and Mrs. James Hurd.

Jimmie Fidler

And while her screaming on such occasions gets attention it seldom earns consideration from the people who have a right to expect her gratitude, yet never heard a "thanks you."

CUFF NOTES—All studies are shaving production budgets to the irreducible minimum due to European war threats—an understandable precaution with the British Empire totalling 35 per cent of the world market. . . . Note to student bodies: Olivia de Havilland will award a scholarship at the American Academy of Dramatic Arts to this year's outstanding player in college theatricals. . . . Death of Charles Cook, former press agent, should rate headlines—his was the idea of entertaining crippled children with circus acts. . . . A last minute decision puts Joan Blondell's signature on a new Warner Brothers contract—she will be screened in bigger and better roles. . . . Tune up those wedding chimes—they'll be needed early this winter for Michael Whalen and Ilona Massey. . . . Richard (Dimples) Greene will sponsor a girl's softball team with plenty of applicants. With contract troubles all ironed out, Gladys Swarthout goes before the cameras at Paramount next month in a non-musical—the sole survivor of the great operative invasion. . . . If you want more Charlie Chan pictures, better talk fast to your neighborhood exhibitor—Twentieth Century Fox will blue-pencil the series if exhibitors are willing. . . . Bill Powell's operating was more successful than even his doctors hoped—he'll be back on a radio program next month. . . . John King, leading man, would like to have Socialite Patricia Stillman share his all. . . . After too many disappointments, Mae Busch gets a real comeback chance in "Nancy Drew, Detective"—lots of luck to her. . . .

At one of our local ice palaces today 12 grips are starting courses in ice-skating—at full pay. They are four-fifths of the "scraper crew" who will manure the studio's rink between scenes for "The Ice Follies." Being Californians, they do not know how to skate; being union men, they cannot be replaced by experienced skaters. The studio's only out is to give them a week's vacation—and a . . .

BELLS AND NO-BELLS: A cartoon to Basil Rathbone for his magnificent performance in "If I Were King" (it rates an Academy Award) and a melodious echo to newcomer Ellen Drew for her work in the same picture. . . . No-Bells to those supervising Mickey Rooney's career for letting him out of campers that may have a bad kick-back—and an encouraging jingle for Martha Raye, who goes right on giving the public what they want, in spite of critical carplings from the wise-acres. . . . Chimes to Bob Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck for cutting down on the publicity about their romance—it was getting bothersome. . . . Best picture of the week: "If I Were King." . . . A dead silence to those studios that pull players out of roles—without adequate explanation—forgetting that such injustice may wreck a promising career. . . .

A note from Pineville, Mo., where Tyrone Power and Company are filming "Jesse James," reports the movie atmosphere is ruining the local football team. Seems the quarterback refuses to make end runs because they display only his profile.

LATHROP NEWS

School Savings

So far as possible today school subjects are made tied up with everyday interests, and to this end Lathrop school banking will be handled as part of the work. This will be done in the commercial department, under the direction of Mr. Aubrey Glines. Tellers are chosen from the 9th grade and changed from time to time in order to give the experience to as many as possible. Those selected for the first banking day were William Rogers, Ella Mae Saalfeld, Lawrence Worthem, and Pauline Struck. Banking hours will be from 7:45 to 8:00.

Change in Text Book Plan

Instead of using one text as a base for study units with reference material for enrichment, the Social Science department this year will more or less reverse this plan. The unit of study will be chosen first and reference material from selected books will be furnished from which to develop the subject. A wide range of readings and research is opened up on every problem by this method.

Home Rooms

The Lathrop students have been organized this year into 26 home rooms, each in charge of a teacher. Each group has chosen officers and organized itself so as to conduct the various matters of school business that arise during the year.

Shop

Out in the shop the 7th grade is taking mechanical drawing. This includes the fundamentals of plan reading and drawing especially as applied to future shop work. The eighth grade is being given woodwork, the correct care and use of tools being the first unit. The 9th grade has a choice of two subjects, electricity and sheet metal, the first practice, as in the 8th grade, being the correct use and care of tools and equipment.

Ferris Scott Returns

Because of the illness of his wife, Mrs. Marion Scott, whom he accompanied back east for treatment, Mr. Scott was unable to be at Lathrop at the beginning of the term. He arrived Monday and assumed his duties immediately.

LIBRARY NEWS

New Books

Many new books have been added to the shelves of the Lathrop Branch Library during the past three months. Some of the most popular ones are: "The Yearling" by Rawlings, "Enchanted Vagabonds" by Lamb, "Hawaiian Holiday" by Barretto, "Your Wings" by Jordanoff, "The Dark River" by Nordhoff and Hall, "A Daughter of the Siens" by Eaton, "The Bunch" by Patton, "American Way" by Coyle, and "Roosevelt" by Ludwig.

Library Instruction

First year Lathrop students are having fun learning the use of the library. They are learning how to locate books on the shelves, how to use the card catalog, how to use the reference material, such as encyclopedias, atlases, etc., and they are learning to develop orderliness, care in handling books, library courtesy and cooperation. Preliminary instruction in the classroom is followed by more instruction and actual practice work in the library.

Library Hours

Mornings, 9-12. Afternoons 1-6. Evenings: Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday, 6-9. Saturday, 1-8. The Lathrop Branch Library is open to the public.

P.-T. A. AT HOOVER PLANS '38 AFFAIRS

The executive committee of the Hoover school P.-T. A. met Monday afternoon in the school library, Mrs. A. C. Honer, president, presided.

Plans for the annual fall dinner for the teachers and parents were discussed, the date of the dinner being set for Friday, October 7. Mrs. E. D. Froeschle, program committee chairman, submitted plans for the program at the dinner. The theme for the year's meetings was announced by Mrs. Froeschle; the subject is "Purposeful Growth—The Child's Right and Parents' Responsibility."

The membership chairman, Mrs. Stanley Reinhaus, briefly outlined plans for the approaching membership campaign. Miss Isabel Lindsay, principal, was asked to suggest a project for the year. The need for tables and benches for the summer home where the children eat their lunch was stressed.

Mrs. M. Hull, magazine chairman, spoke of the goal she hoped to reach with the P.-T. A. magazine subscriptions. Those present at the meeting were Mrs. Jasper Parney, radio chairman; Mrs. E. D. Froeschle, program chairman; Mrs. G. C. Griffin, secretary; Mrs. Frank Harwood, historian; Mrs. A. C. Honer, president; Mrs. H. J. Howard, publicity; Mrs. M. Hull, magazine chairman; Miss Isabel Lindsay, principal; Mrs. Stanley Reinhaus, membership chairman; Mrs. R. Deane Smiley, welfare chairman.

Pupils Take Part In P.-T. A. Party

In the first meeting of the school year, the Edison P.-T. A. met Tuesday evening at the school. A short business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Kenneth Green.

Mrs. Hazel Maxwell presented the program for the day. Those taking part in the entertainment program were: Mary Hutchinson, Jocelyn Hansen, Beulah Pershing, Betty Moore, Dwene Davis, Bobby Hornaday, Helena Rush, Nola Jacobs, Alene Friend, Earleen Shinn, Bruce Schroh, Eunice Schroh, Kenneth Laughton, Iolene Laughton, Joan Ranney, Clifford Ranney, Lois Cowdery, Ruth Cowdery, Marion Edwards, Evelyn Marrs, Melvin Kaiser and Joan Walworth.

Frank Henderson, superintendent of Santa Ana schools, spoke to the group on "The Need for a New Junior College." The teachers were then introduced and presented with corsages. Each teacher served refreshments to the parents of the boys and girls in her room. The grade mothers were the hostesses for the day. Herbert Michael led community singing.

GARDEN AND HOME

Well Planned and Cool Is This Garden

A remarkable example of what may be accomplished in home gardening is the cool and shady retreat at the George S. Smith home, 916 French street. Two great avocado trees, one of which is nearly 35 years old, furnish abundant shade for the rock gardens and shade plants growing beneath them. The present garden was begun the latter part of March and about six tons of rock were used in its construction. Across the entire back of the house is a wide porch, comfortable garden chairs offering a pleasant place to overlook the garden. A bank of begonias ends at the edge of the porch, great wide-leaved varieties of the Rex begonia, and tuberous begonias whose blossoms make vivid notes of color in the soft blending of greens. One of the loveliest features is the soft green light which fills every nook and corner with sunlight filtering through the thick branches overhead.

Through the Garden Gate

With MARAH ADAMS

Butterflies seem to be more a part of fall than of summer. Their slow languorous flights over a garden resting quietly in the warm sunshine before winter rains and new growth, some way is announcement that autumn is here. And it is here, arriving tomorrow to be exact. At any rate, this fact is vouched for in the dark, red date book furnished employees by owners of The Register.

Like brown and golden leaves the painted lady butterflies float from flower to flower, reminding those who lived here 14 years ago of the great and unprecedented flight of these butterflies across Southern California in the fall of 1924. Where they came from and what was their destination, still remains a mystery.

The number of butterflies making the phenomenal flight was estimated at over 300,000,000,000 and the horde measured 40 miles across and took three days to pass a given point. This strange flight seemed to have been forgotten by almost everyone until it was recalled recently in "Strange As It Seems," by John Hix.

So far as is known, painted ladies never before made such a flight and certainly never have made one since. It will be remembered that at first the vanguard of the butterflies appeared, then came the dense cloud of fliers bound for the unknown, then the stragglers. Some rested on bushes and trees for a while only to resume their journey and join the horde.

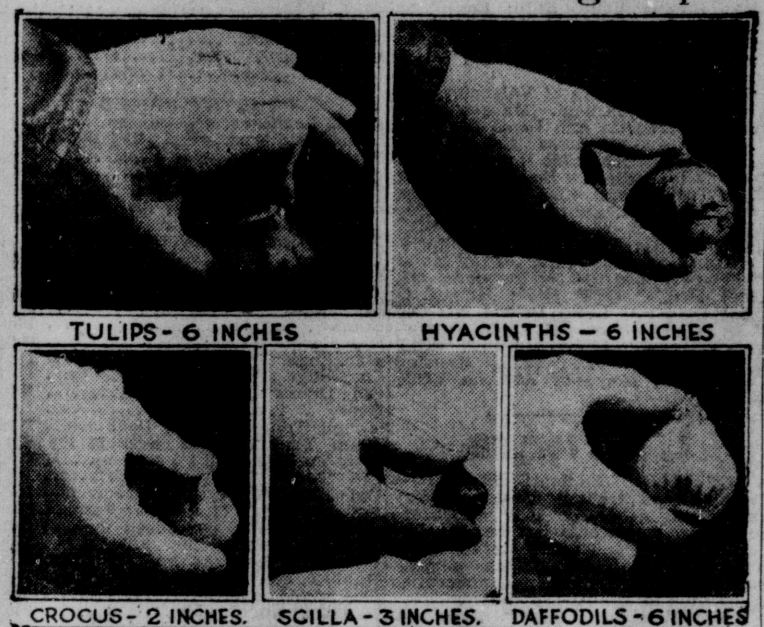

Butterflies flew through the garden gate today because of an interesting article written for the garden page by Mrs. T. E. McLeod, president of the Senior Ebells Garden section, a report of a talk given by Miss Charlotte Hamilton at the first meeting of that section for the year.

The story concerned a gorgeous butterfly destined for but one day of life—and that day it rained. It told the story of the butterfly and its light to a practical naturalist who declared that the kind of butterfly I had described lived for many days, could spread its wings in the sun some other day.

But I still think the idea could be utilized. The man or woman or boy or girl who had waited long for opportunity or situation worked and waited for a longed-for opportunity—and then something happened that was equivalent to the day of rain to the butterfly with but one day to live.

Just in case you don't believe any of this, there is a promising young police officer in an Orange county city, close to Santa Ana, who wanted very much indeed to be a member of the state highway patrol. He waited over a period of years for an examination for highway patrolmen to be given. Then along came a longed-for examination but, alas, almost on the same date arrived the young officer's 30th birthday. No one may take an examination for a state highway officer who is 30 years old.

Fall Bulbs and Their Planting Depths

Of all garden subjects, the bulbs are probably the easiest to plant and the most certain to bloom. It is almost impossible to plant the modern bulbs without some kind of success when spring rolls around. Because they are so obliging, however, does not mean that they should be planted without regard to their likes and dislikes. The tiny scilla bulbs should manifestly not be planted so deep as the huge narcissus bulb. When beginning operations, consult a chart of planting depths, or read carefully the directions on the package, making sure that bulbs of each type are planted about the same depth, so that they will appear simultaneously in the spring.

A good rule to follow when in doubt, is to plant on the deep side. In other words less harm will be done from planting too deep, than too shallow. In the case of the imperial and candidum lilies, the converse is true, and these giant bulbs, which appear to want at least 6 inches, need but a scant 3 inches.

ers, school teachers, biologists, insecticide companies, and people who decorate lamp shades and ashtrays with butterfly wings. Maynard offers 250 different kinds of domestic cocoons and 150 exotic ones priced from 10 cents to $3 each.

Butterflies are valuable as well as interesting. A gift of $47 specimens of native and exotic butterflies has been added to the $35,000 collection already assembled by the department of zoology and entomology at Pennsylvania State college.

Good news for the hundreds of women interested in the Orange County Flower show this month, is the announcement that the show was a decided success not only from a standpoint of beauty but financially as well. This is especially good news for the group working many days to bring this success about.

Present interest in the Dahlia show sponsored by the Kiwanis club September 23 in the basement of the Masonic temple, indicates that a large attendance may be expected. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Moore who have won first prize and a number of blue ribbons at the past two Orange County Fall Flower shows with their "Jane Cow" dahlias are watching over a number of these dahlia blooms which they expect to enter.

The Moors live at 1049 East Palmyra avenue, Orange. Some of the blooms are 14 inches in diameter and are a blend of apricot, yellow and pink, glaucous sunset hues. The Moores raise other flowers as well as dahlias on one acre place. They have tuberous begonias, azaleas, rhododendrons and last year they planted 2200 daffodils, putting them in every nook and corner.

GIGANTIC SHOW PLAN MADE FOR TREASURE ISLE

Multiply 92 garden clubs of California—from the Oregon line to the Mexican border—by over 100 and you have 10,900 flower enthusiasts. Multiply this figure by any digit you choose and you will arrive at a total of several hundred thousand citizens of this state who are directly and primarily enthused over the horticultural display sponsored by the California State Commission on Treasure Island for 1939.

When you pass through the portals of this enormous greenhouse next February not only will you gasp at flower loveliness which you never dreamed existed—no, not even in California—but you will also marvel when you leave that this outstanding exhibit has several impressive "firsts" to its credit. Its sponsors admit the following world titles:

1. The first flower show running uninterruptedly for a period of 10 months, with flowers in season rotated constantly.
2. The first time that space has ever been presented to exhibitors rent free.
3. The first time that exhibitors will be put to no expense in connection with their exhibits; nor will any admission charge to the public be made.
4. The first time that a collection—under one roof—has been made of the finest examples of floriculture of the entire Pacific Coast.

If you are not sufficiently impressed with the foregoing distinctions, you may agree that the importation of a quarter of a million daffodils from the fields of Oregon and Washington should set some kind of a record.

Dahlias in Winter
If you are dahlia-minded your curiosity should be aroused when you learn that dahlias which normally bloom in the fall will be in full blossom on the opening day of the Fair.

You've heard tall tales of big things in California but try to visualize this building in your imagination: the width of a city street; the length of a city block; the height of a four-story building. That's how your horticultural show will be housed in 1939, but to describe the loveliness of the millions of blooms it will contain is beyond the power of any pen.

Correction. In our September first garden column, replying to the request of Mrs. G. B. D. as to remedy for thrips on gladioli, we said to use an ounce of Naphthalene flakes to "one hundred pounds" of gladioli. It should be an ounce of Naphthalene flakes to "one hundred corms" of gladioli. (What we refer to as a gladioli bulb being more accurately a corm.)

I wish I could lay this mistake to the printers or proofreaders, but the fault is entirely mine. I did not notice it until today as I posted the article in my scrapbook. So I beat my breast humbly at the head of this week's column in the hope anyone interested may see this instead of writing them!

If you have only a few, just use a generous handful of the flakes, scattering them well between the gladioli bulbs.

Snails and Slugs
I hope you are still trying the new snail and slug bait. I have just been reading a paen of praise by Victor Reiter, Jr., in "The Santa Barbara Gardener" in which he calls this the "greatest discovery of a generation" for gardeners. In his opinion the San Francisco Bay region is especially cursed with these crawling pests. He writes feelingly, "succumbing completely to these animated stomachs." Now he expects to be able to grow all the choice and rare rock garden plants for which he has longed, free from the menace of snails and slugs.

Just imagine, brethren and sisters, a garden free from snails, sowbugs and slugs! Then go forth and get some of the new snail bait (or your old standby with the new ingredient added) and prove it for yourself.

SERIAL STORY

HIT-RUN LOVE

BY MARGUERITE GAHAGAN
COPYRIGHT, 1938 NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday: Larry is arrested as the hit-run driver. Pat calls him to give him the faith and love he needs now more than ever before.

CHAPTER VIII

COOPED up in the stuffy, dingy phone booth in the court lobby by Pat felt the rush of blood in her ears, heard the heavy beat of her heart, wiped the nervous perspiration from the palms of her hands. Four phone calls and still she hadn't located Larry. She called his salesroom again and managed to talk to one of the men she knew.

"He'll be here in an hour," he said. "Can I have him call you back?"

"Please, I'll be at home. Tell him I must see him."

She hated going home yet she hurried lest he call before she arrived. The boys weren't home yet, but Mrs. McGraw had heard the news.

"It's a terrible thing, Pat. For the life of me I can't understand a nice boy like Larry doing such a thing." She sank down in her favorite chair and watched Pat toss her hat on the table and sit down on the sofa to read the evening papers.

"Being in an accident was a horrible experience," she continued, "and I can feel sorry for the boy. It might have happened to anyone, but driving away leaving that poor woman and child in the street. That's what gets me, Pat. Do you s'pose he didn't know he hit them?"

The lump in Pat's throat made her answer hesitant. She tried to force a ring of sincerity to her words. "It must be so, Mom. I can't think he'd try to hide the fact. It doesn't seem like him. I left word for him to call me. After all my place is now with him. I'll have to stand by and give him a chance to tell his side of the story."

THE minutes dragged, but finally the phone rang. It was Larry, and her heart leaped at the calmness of his voice. No tremble, no quaver. "The boys said you called, Pat. I was pretty busy all day, as you can imagine. I suppose you read the papers?"

"Yes, this morning, Larry. Are you all right? I mean, things aren't as bad as they say in the newspapers, are they?"

"They'll have a hard time pinning anything on me," he declared quietly. "Just because I had to have a dented fender, and because some dumb cluck said he saw me driving there at that time isn't going to make me guilty."

Larry's voice was humming over the wire again. "I can't talk to you like this. I'll come over."

These little bulbs throw up their charming flowers in the fall, while still leafless so are most effective if planted with a ground cover. In the early spring the foliage appears, dying down along in June. They look like a long tubed crocus, but really belong to the lily family.

Partial shade is best for them in our location, but not too heavy shade, slight protection from hot sun. They like a rich loamy soil, in which they may be left undisturbed, being at their best when well established. Plant with the tip of the bulb an inch or two under the surface. A single bulb will throw five to fifteen blooms.

Colchicum autumnale, which comes in white, rosy purple and lilac, is the one most commonly seen. Giganteum has large flowers of rosy velvet with a white throat and is sweet scented. Violet Queen is a deep purple violet with white center. The newest one offered has large, double, lilac flowers, called "waterlily," and certainly looks like one.

The colchicum comes from Colchis, in Asia Minor, from whence it derives its botanical name. And, by the way, these bulbs will bloom without being planted at all. Put them in a dry saucer on the window sill, if you want a flowering novelty. And then plant them in the garden when the bloom is gone.

Bunch Flowering Tulips
Have you seen these tulips which produce not one, but three to six blossoms, all opening at one time in a cluster or "bunch"? An interesting and attractive tulip novelty. They are offered in named varieties, the colors being ivory white, sulphur yellow, crimson red, and in "Red Glory," a bright glossy red.

CAMPANULA. This is the season when the Campanula isophylla hangs its curtains of white for the first time. "Star of Bethlehem" (Do not confuse with the spring-flowering pulchra plant which also goes by that lovely name.) This campanula is a beautiful thing when in full bloom and a source of pure joy to all who behold it. In Canada and in our Pacific Northwest it is a favorite plant, and driving along the roads one glimpses it in gardens, on porches, and in bay windows. The plant is perennial, always

We can't go out because the police have taken my license away. Maybe we can have a little time together alone, though, at your house."

She noticed a change in the boys' manner when they discussed Larry's dinner. Bill brought up the subject, trying with the awkward embarrassment of youth to express sympathy and yet unable to conceal the puzzled wonder they all felt.

"Tough, all right. Doesn't seem like Larry to pull a hit-run trick. You were in the car that Saturday night, Pat. Did you notice anything wrong?"

She didn't dare look into his honest young eyes, nor meet Joe's anxious glance. She toyed with her dessert. All three of them had been brought up to believe in the justice of the law. It had been their father's creed and he had passed it on to his children.

"Yes—on the way it banged a little. Larry said it must have been hit when we were parked at the club. It could have, of course. He said he was over near High Hill at 5 that evening. He couldn't have been there and at the scene of the accident, too."

YET when Larry arrived the boys departed after a few brief words of greeting. She could feel their embarrassment, their uncertainty.

"I thought I'd be able to stay a while," he said, "but my lawyer wants to see me again. We go to court in the morning. Have to arrange things before then. I just wanted you to know everything is going to be all right."

"The police haven't a thing on me. You know that fender was jammed at the club. Remember? And you know I was at High Hill. I told you about it, remember?"

She nodded slowly. "Yes, you told me you were there—"

"Well, you believe me, don't you? And you know about the fender, too."

She pressed her hands to her head. "I thought I heard it rattle on the way out to the club, but—"

"Good heavens, Pat, you're letting your imagination run away with you," he broke in harshly. "Well," he was walking up and down the room nervously. "Suppose I'll see you tomorrow at court. I hear that your bright boy Sweeney is going to run for prosecutor in the primaries. What's the feeling about his chances?"

"He's well liked, and he's very capable." She thought of Tom standing beside the witness chair, firing questions, breaking alibis, opening pitfalls for lying witnesses.

Hummingbirds prefer red flowers, and most of the deep-throated flowers, which must depend on hummingbirds for fertilization, are red.

John Burroughs, famous naturalist, heard a whippoorwill call 1088 times without pausing.

"Capable—" Larry repeated slowly. "Sure, and pretty darn anxious to get the nomination, too. Probably running his legs off to get to the right people to back him. I guess he'd like to know some of the guys I do. Old man Barnes for instance. He's a big shot in banking circles here in town, and can put money on the line when a campaign comes along."

HIS bragging was so obvious, so like a small boy's, that Pat's pale lips curled in a tremulous smile. "I didn't know you knew Mr. Barnes so well, Larry."

"Oh, I've met him, and I know his daughter. I helped her out of a jam once. She banged up a new model she was trying out last fall. She hasn't forgotten about it either. In fact she was mighty nice when I called and told her I couldn't come out today. Said she hoped I'd get along, and that maybe she could help."

Help—Pat stared at the pool of light made by the lamp on the old walnut table. Help—a lot of help Dottie Barnes would give if it meant embarrassment or publicity. How could Larry be so glib, so naive?

"And by the way, Pat," he added, "you are in a position to offer some help, too. I notice you haven't made any move yet, but I suppose you want to help me, don't you?"

She looked at him soberly. "You know I do, Larry. We're to be married. I love you, I don't want to see an innocent man suffer. What can I do, though?"

He dropped his gaze before her steady appraisal, and shrugged his shoulders as he moved to put on his coat. "Oh, I don't know. Maybe as a character witness. Tell Sweeney I'm not a cheap crook, or a hold-up man. That you think highly of me and plan to marry me."

"I'm not ashamed of you, Larry. If my serving as a character witness will help, you know I'll do it. Only the men you work with would serve the purpose much better. As your girl, my opinion would naturally be colored in your favor. And Sweeney won't think of you as a criminal, unless—"

As her voice trailed off the silence was pregnant with unspoken thought. "Unless what?" Larry demanded quietly.

She drew herself together and stood up beside him, smiling into his eyes. "Why, unless he feels he has an iron-bound case against you. And he can't have then, can he, when you're an innocent man?"

EBELL SPEAKER TELLS LIFE OF THE BUTTERFLY

"Of the 5000 butterflies in North America, 600 are found in the United States and 200 of these are found in California alone," said Miss Charlotte Hamilton, speaking recently before members of the Garden section of Santa Ana Ebells club.

"California has more butterflies than any state in the union excepting Florida.

"Very few of these little creatures are nests in the garden. We have a great many moths too, and some of them that do damage, such as the codling moth, but even the moths there are very few that do damage in the garden.

"The butterfly's eggs, may be shaped like a turban, may be round or even may resemble a barrel with staves which may be seen with a magnifying glass. Common colors are green, white, greenish white, or red or blue.

"One of the most remarkable things is the way the butterfly lays its eggs, always on the plant that will furnish the proper food for the larvae, lantana, primrose, buckwheat, live oak and so on. The insect sometimes will fly a mile or so to find the right feeding place as the larvae will eat nothing except the proper food for that particular type of butterfly.

"Grown the larvae hangs head down and spins a chrysalis. All his organs become liquid except his nerve centers. He really dies and when he comes to life he is an entirely different creature. It really seems that his nerve centers are his spirit and when he comes to life it is like his spirit emerging.

"Most butterflies have a life span of but three or four days although the Monarch, a migrant, lives six months longer. We are in the path of the migration and we can see swarms of these gorgeous fellows flying along at night lodging in trees, hanging on to one another when they run out of trees.

"Butterflies may be enticed to light on the hand by means of sugar or sugar and water, and if stroked softly with a camel's hair brush emit a delicate fragrance resembling iris root, heliotrope or clover. These insects have interesting ways of protecting themselves both in the larvae and adult stages. The 'Swallowtail' sometimes is called the 'pole cat' of the butterfly family because of the vile odor emitted when disturbed. Or it may thrust up its great eyes and flutter two orange filaments striking terror to the heart of the bird waiting to feast on it. The Monarch has such a bad taste and odor birds leave it alone.

"Butterflies and moths have their uses in a garden, one of which is to carry pollen. The yucca could not live without the yucca moth which carries pollen from plant to plant and lays its eggs in the upper part of the bloom in a space seemingly made especially for it. The California state butterfly is the Zeryne Eurydice which feeds on alfalfa. The female is yellow the male white. Attract butterflies and moths to your garden by planting flowers they like, then go into your garden to study them at your leisure."

FALL SHOW AWARDS BRING CLUB THANKS

Newport Beach Chamber of Commerce this week publicly extended its thanks to the Newport Beach Ebells club for the splendid showing made by flower growers in the harbor area at the Orange County Fall Flower show.

Sweepstakes for the entire show for flower arrangements was won by Mrs. C. M. Deakin of Balboa, who also won a first in miniatures and in marigolds. Mrs. Susan M. Rutherford won a second in red flower arrangements and Mrs. Callahan won a first in hydrangeas.

Mrs. Winifred H. Young won first in collection of fibrous begonias as well as first for best collection of succulents.

The Ebells club of Newport Beach took second place in club projects, still life, and a second award in the independent projects. Members of the garden club section are enthusiastic over the showing made from the Newport Harbor area and are already planning well ahead for the Newport Harbor flower show which will be held jointly under the auspices of the Ebells club and the chamber of commerce early next season.

NEW ORCHARD SNAROL
The "NEW" Orchard Snarol is really creating quite a sensation. A poison label is no longer required on this Snarol because Metaldelyde—instead of Arsenic—is now the active agent. The reason it is so effective is simply because the odor of the Metaldelyde draws the snail or slug from some distance. Snails have been detected coming out of the lower branches of an orange tree within fifteen minutes after New Snarol had been scattered beneath on the ground. We are sure that you will not criticize us for being enthusiastic over "NEW" SNAROL because we realize that in this product "we've really got something."

LATE NEWS FROM ORANGE

Hold Funeral Of Former Resident

ORANGE, Sept. 22.—Last night for C. H. Wulfersteig, of Bell, former Orange resident, were held yesterday afternoon at St. John's Lutheran church, with the pastor of the Southgate Lutheran church officiating. Mr. Wulfersteig was an early settler of Orange, coming here in 1882, and moving to Los Angeles in 1910. He was a member of the first graduating class of St. John's Christian day school. He passed away Monday, September 19.

Palbearers, all Orange friends, were John Bosch, Paul Kogler, George Dierker, Fred Struck, William Muffelman and Henry Bandick. Interment was made in St. John's Lutheran cemetery.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Dora Wulfersteig, who is a sister to A. Lepton of Orange; eight children and two grandchildren, two sisters and one brother. Mr. Wulfersteig was a native of Australia.

Members of the city made attractive awards to members of the team which included cedar chests for Lois Terry and Marjorie Mast. Wrist watches were presented to each girl by Marty Fiedler of Fiedler field. Members of the Lionette committee were Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Case, Burli Wing, Wilbur Lentz, J. E. Donegan, George Bartley, Dewey Shubert, Russell Caldwell, Dick Jones and Martell Thompson.

Members of the team presented Mrs. Case with a handsome wrist watch. Victor Baden is coach and he announced that the team will enter the national tournament next year.

Eagle Badge To Be Awarded Soon

ORANGE, Sept. 22.—Don Sutherland, Orange youth, will receive an Eagle Scout badge, it was announced at a court of honor held by members of Boy Scout Troop No. 53 Tuesday evening at Epworth hall. The award will be presented at a court of awards to be held next month.

More than 125 persons were present at the court of honor, which opened with a dinner served by tables decorated with vases of red pompon dahlias. A basket of giant dahlias from the gardens of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Moore was used with other bouquets of the same flower about the room.

Awards were made as follows: Tenderfoot badges, Jimmy Green, Robert Seaton, Everett Tuck and David Green; second class badges, Bob Gist, George Schmidt, Charles McQuillan, Henry Nightingale; first class badges, Bob Gist, Jennings Goble, Kenneth Jenkins and David Scherman. Star scouts, Tom Chick and William Klenck; organizers, badges, Dale Proffitt and Don Sutherland. Thirty-four merit badges were awarded at the same time.

The Swiss steak dinner was served by members of the Mothers' auxiliary, those aiding in its preparation including Mrs. Daisy Proffitt, Mrs. J. W. Moore, Mrs. C. H. Stewart, Mrs. W. F. Schmidt, Mrs. Louise Shores and Miss Amanda Seaton.

Pantomime Given At Church Supper

ORANGE, Sept. 22.—"The Story of Ferdinand" was retold in a musical pantomime Tuesday night when the Trinity Episcopal congregation enjoyed the first of a series of pot luck suppers in the parish hall. The pantomime was directed and narrated by Mrs. Merrill Bauer.

"Ferdinand" was played by Merrill Bauer and William Couden Douglas Reed, of Portola, was the matador. The Rev. H. F. Soffley and Percy J. Green were pleaders. Mrs. Lohr, Mrs. William Goulden and Mrs. George Bandriff Smith played the parts of the three beautiful ladies. All were in clever costumes. Mrs. Lloyd Baker was at the piano.

Another of the suppers is scheduled to be held next month. Mrs. B. J. Morey was chairman of the committee in charge.

NEW FINANCIAL MARKET NEWS

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Stocks declined today after three successive sessions of advance that boosted the industrial average nearly 7 1/2 points.

Volume lightened sharply as compared with recent sessions. Up to 2 p. m. stock sales amounted to only 370,000 shares, against 550,000 in the corresponding period yesterday.

Bonds made an irregular decline with Czechoslovak issues off as much as 12 points. Wheat and corn turned higher as did sugar, while cotton, copper, rubber and hides declined. In London prices were depressed, notably in Czech issues.

Three new members were accepted and installed by Mrs. Mary Mitchell, installing and instituting officer. Mrs. Elena Craig, Mrs. Meta Vail and Mrs. Edna Williams were received.

It was announced that Federation No. 1, W. R. C. will meet Monday at Westminster, Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Hattie Burman will be hostess to the Orange W. R. C. at her home, 827 East Palm avenue, when the monthly party of the corps will be held.

Special guests beside the visiting officers were Mrs. Alice Milligan, president of the Santa Ana corps, and Mrs. Coraline Benway, also of Santa Ana corps.

Olive P. T. A. In Initial Meeting

ORANGE, Sept. 22.—The first meeting of the school year was held Tuesday by the Olive P. T. A. at the school house. Mrs. A. W. Ames presided at a short business meeting at which it was decided to hold a benefit card party in the hall of the school on October 5. Mrs. Stanley Schaeffer, Miss Grace Meyer and Mrs. Harry Hehl were appointed as committee members for the party.

Most of the afternoon was devoted to getting acquainted, after which Mrs. Ben Gelker and Mrs. Harry Reihl served tea to those present.

In summing up the talks Mrs. Iva Reeves Lee, principal, said that the aim of each teacher is to keep the child happy and working to his or her capacity. Superintendent C. I. Thomas also spoke briefly. Tea was served following the meeting with the executive board members as hostesses. Flowers and tapers in the P. T. A. colors of blue and gold decorated the lace spread tea table.

Each teacher of the school then told briefly of her aims for the school year.

On Tuesday evening at Epworth hall, members of the Lionette committee were Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Case, Burli Wing, Wilbur Lentz, J. E. Donegan, George Bartley, Dewey Shubert, Russell Caldwell, Dick Jones and Martell Thompson.

DRIVE CAREFULLY —SAVE A LIFE—

VOTING TOMORROW

Citizens of the junior college district will determine tomorrow whether they will add $385,000 of bonds to their indebtedness. It undoubtedly is a fact that many conscientious people believe it is the duty of the public to furnish colleges for everyone whether they can make use of them or not. These people, together with all those who hope to get some special advantage out of this expenditure, will go out and vote. The citizens who have not made a special study of the limitations of government and are not seeking any special advantage but only want good government for all the people, are inclined to neglect voting.

It is, therefore, of the utmost importance that those who are interested in the general welfare of all the people go out and vote tomorrow so as to counterbalance those who vote for the bond issue because it means some special privilege to them or their relatives. And there is great danger of the bond issue carrying because these people who have no ax to grind might neglect their duty of voting.

It is regrettable that this school bond election could not have been a part of the general election in November so as to create a wider general interest in voting, inasmuch as there are a great number of people who do not believe that they will be affected one way or another by this bond election and will, undoubtedly, feel that it is not necessary to vote because there is only this one point under consideration. We feel that every individual voter and taxpayer in Santa Ana should be vitally interested in this election and we urge that all go to the polls tomorrow and vote their conviction.

It is a rather striking incident that the most of those people who contributed in the Register Clearing House were people who lived out of the taxing district, will not have to pay for the bond issue and the increased taxes due to increased students from outside of the taxing district and outside of the state. It is easy to see that their motives were not 100 per cent impartial. The people who really should decide this, are those who live in the district and will have to sacrifice, by receiving lower wages and have a lower standard of living because of the additional cost, not only for constructing the additional buildings but paying the extra taxes to take care of the out of state and out of district pupils who attend.

WHY SO MUCH PROTECTION?

Undoubtedly, if you would press the doctors for an answer as to why the hospitals in Orange County will not analyze the blood of a patient and tell him the percentage of sugar in it but will only give it to a doctor and have the doctor tell the citizen the percentage of sugar, they would contend it was for the protection of the public.

But the public does not care for so much protection from the doctors and it is just this kind of control that the public resents which undoubtedly will have an influence in bringing about more and more socialization of medicine.

It might be well for the doctors to remember that Christianity and democracy make a long, long fight to secure more and more rights for an individual; that he has a right to use his own energy as he sees best so long as it does not interfere with the rights of others; and if he wants information that he thinks is valuable to him he cannot see why it is necessary for him to go through a doctor in order to get this data.

This kind of restriction is contrary to the spirit of liberalism, the spirit of free enterprise and begets anything but good-will for the medical profession.

Undoubtedly, the hospitals are obliged to do this because the doctors under the pretense of protecting the "dear people" have so worded the laws prohibiting medical practice that even a trained nurse or professional clinical laboratorian is violating the law by taking blood from the veins of anyone.

DECENT INDIVIDUALISM

When City Councilman Charles H. Jester of Laguna Beach said: "It's time for some small community, such as this, to say that it wants none of these WPA grants, and Laguna Beach should be the first," he enunciated truth that deserved a larger audience than the 30 or so spectators in the council room.

And the voice of one crying in the wilderness—Councilman Charles Jester of Laguna Beach—multiplied by the 3000 counties in the United States, might do something toward the restoration of sanity, and the re-establishment of decent individualism in the best of all countries.

The occasion of Councilman Jester's remarks was a regular meeting of the city council where the matter under discussion was the projected taking over by the city of the "Recreational Project" then employing eight men and women. A paid representative of the Orange County Recreational Project had just finished outlining an attractive prospectus, under which some 25 "recreational workers" paid by WPA would be turned loose upon the seaside city.

There are, or have been, two schools in Orange County for teaching WPA instructors to "teach children to play." One of these is located at Costa Mesa and every Tuesday some 50 middle-aged ones foregather, and there and then, they are told how to fulfill the promise of the "Fuller Life." Gravely, the half-hundred are shown how to construct model airplanes that won't fly; to fold paper and make cut-out dolls.

The "instructors," all from the Los Angeles headquarters of the "Recreational" movement give "pep talks" and community singing is indulged in. The song books provide such musical fare as "Hallelujah, I'm a Bum," No. 33 in the book; "There's a Gold Mine in the Sky." To "teach" youngsters to play, it is considered necessary that song-leaders be developed. This, in turn, necessitates initiation into the mysteries of time-beating. And, in these days of dark depression, it is quite inspiring to see 50 folk describing diagrams in the empty ether, in 2-4, 4-4, 6-8, and other tempi.

There should be more Councilman Jesters in this country; men who have enough interest in the future of their community to openly oppose handing out of something for nothing. If every community would follow the lead of Councilman Jester this country soon would come out of its doldrums and millions soon

METHODS OF PROMOTING JUNIOR COLLEGE

Those people who are frank enough to publicly point out some of the errors in public education are inclined to wonder just how far those in charge of public education are willing to go in order to stamp their ideas on to the public.

In connection with the present junior college bond issue, those responsible parties have seen fit to print at public expense what they believe will influence the public to vote for this bond issue. Not only do they spend the laborers' money directly to spread their propaganda but private labor pays the salaries of the teachers in the public schools who take the time and energy of the pupils in attempting to influence the pupils to get their parents to vote for this bond issue.

While probably there is no law to prevent this, it certainly is using a position of trust in the way the position was not intended to be used. It certainly seems unfair to attempt to indoctrinate the minds of parents via the pupils at public expense.

It would seem that this is very similar to the present federal administration attempting to use its power in every way, even through the WPA, to perpetuate its control. It seems that the policies carried out by the school board in training the youth and in their real action are thus contrary to the original democratic principles that a public office is a public trust.

The political educators seem to think that the parents must be saved from themselves; that the end justifies the means; that they are the Moses who should lead the people out of the wilderness and use the working man's income without his consent to perpetuate their ideas. Of course they contend it is for the working man's own benefit.

But where does this kind of assumption of power and control lead us? It invariably leads us away from the free competitive system, from the fundamentals of democracy straight to poverty, misery and eventually a dictatorship.

If our educators see fit to use this kind of policies, it is rather illogical to expect them to use broad-minded methods in selecting textbooks and teachers who really will discipline the mind of the youth rather than indoctrinate the ideas of the politicians at the head of the institutions.

A MOST PLEASANT EMPLOYMENT

News reports quote Dr. Francis Townsend as saying in a meeting adopting a platform for the Townsend party, that the Townsend plan would employ the aged to spend money to bring back prosperity. This certainly would be a desirable occupation and they will have no trouble in getting people to accept the job of spending money to bring back prosperity.

Here is the crux of the fallacy of the Townsend scheme, which so many well-intentioned people actually believe would be a great benefit to the nation as a whole. The money which the recipients of the 2 per cent transaction tax would spend would not be new wealth poured into the country. If it were it would do exactly what the Townsend people contend—make prosperity. But this wealth—this money—that the Townsend recipients would spend is due to the comforts of life. And these comforts of life must be produced by someone else. If the recipients of the 2 per cent transaction tax are permitted to consume this wealth by a transaction tax taking from the real producers, then there is no new wealth added, and instead of bringing about prosperity, it would bring about more and more discouragement on the part of the workers taxed for every transaction.

It certainly would be a pleasant occupation of spending what other people produce! The trouble is, we have too many people already engaged in doing exactly that, and not enough who are producing.

DICTATORS VIA SOCIALISM

Benjamin De Casseres, in his "March of Events" column, quotes Hamlet as saying, "Why it's as easy as lying."

Then De Casseres remarks, "But there's something easier. It is the 'prestige change' of a Socialist or Communist into a Fascist dictator."

We further quote from De Casseres: "George Bernard Shaw used to be a Socialist. In Liberty he devotes two pages to praising dictators. He says, among a pile of stupid things, 'Stalin is a very able man. Let us speak respectfully of him.'"

"Mussolini was such a rabid Socialist that he once called the king of Italy a 'chauffeur' and the Italian flag a 'rag.' He is now a bombastic sword-rattler."

"Hitler headed the National Socialist party of Germany. He is now a dictator-fanatic who is the most dangerous mortal on the globe."

In the heart of every meddler, generalizationist and "egger on," who is constantly telling someone else to do something and attempting to force them to do it by law, there is a hidden desire to dominate and control the lives of other people. They are at heart not true Christians, nor true democrats, but they are at heart tyrants, despots and dictators.

Look at Roosevelt! How he originally claimed to be for the underprivileged and how he lives like a potentate and how he demands the Democratic Senators who believe in true democracy to be purged from the party!

It is certainly true that it is easier to become a dictator by the route of socialism and meddling and reforming than it is to tell a lie.

would be earning honest dollars by the sweat of their brow instead of standing in line waiting for something they have no right to expect, even in times of stress.

Since, when has it been necessary to teach children to play?

That's inherent in them. And it shouldn't be necessary to teach them to work at public expense. Old Mother Necessity, if left alone, will do that.

But if present conditions exist much longer, the suffering eventually and inevitably inflicted by old Mother Necessity in teaching them to work will be much greater. It will be necessary to teach oldsters as well as youngsters how to work.

Editor Register:

1. Why don't the present school officials make good their promise to the people of Santa Ana that was made at the time of the high school bond election? That is that we would divorce the Junior College which at that time was part of the high school set-up, place it in temporary quarters, and that they would make every effort to join with the districts outside of Santa Ana in a real, honest-to-goodness Union Junior College program?

2. Why doesn't Mr. Harold Yost give more careful attention to the statements he has been putting out? There have been no two alike.

3. Why don't the school officials give us the information accurately regarding the number of students from out of state, the number from Anaheim, Fullerton, Huntington Beach, Newport Beach, Laguna Beach, San Juan Capistrano, Tustin and Orange?

4. Why is it that the leaflet put out by the school officials shows an attendance of 1062 at the present time when the statement you put in your editorial of yesterday, shows 702? It also shows that out of this 702, 91 were from out of state, while the editorial says 61.

5. Why doesn't the auditor give us the exact amount of money spent on the present shack building which you pictured yesterday, and also the buildings located on the east side of Main Street?

6. Would it not be far better if Santa Ana would get together with the balance of the county and put through a program along the lines that was promised us when we voted close to one million dollars for the present high school buildings?

Finally, we have a wonderful example of what real cooperation and neighborliness can do for Orange County when we look at the Newport Harbor as it is today. This was made possible by a united county. Why can we not do the same thing in this junior college program?

JULIUS W. MARKEL

Fellow Citizens: Those Santa Ana citizens who believe that this community cannot afford the $385,000 bond issue to provide an adequate Junior College plant should consider the following points before going to the polls Friday.

1. Santa Ana Junior college has at present a teaching staff capable of giving this city the very best type of educational program. This faculty is holding classes at present in a conglomeration of nondescript buildings that certainly are not an asset to a community of 36,000 inhabitants. These buildings are totally inadequate to house a student enrollment that has grown from 123 in 1935 to a total of over 1000 in 1938.

Because of this inadequate housing situation students already are deserting Santa Ana Junior college for Fullerton, a community that has already taken advantage of the type of federal loan now offered to Santa Ana. What does this mean to Santa Ana's future? Simply that the homeseeker looking for the Orange county community offering the best educational advantages for his children will choose Fullerton. Can Santa Ana afford to offer inducements attractive chiefly to the elderly, the retired and the childless family while Fullerton makes a bid for the youth that will build the future of the community?

With her new Junior college plant Fullerton with a population of 12,000 now has 1,200 enrolled in Junior college while Santa Ana with a population of 36,000 has only 1000 students. Each student according to a survey made in Santa Ana last year, spends $30 a month for food, shelter, etc. Is it economy for Santa Ana to hand over this business to Fullerton?

2. Cost is important and must be considered. Let us be specific. The federal government proposes to give Santa Ana $315,000 to which Santa Ana must add $385,000 to be voted in bonds on Friday. If Santa Ana turns down this offer future funds from this source will not be available. The money now appropriated will go to another community. How will the bonds be paid for? If you own a house valued at $5000 these bonds will not make any change in your total taxes for 1939. In 1940 your tax will increase $150 in 1941 the increase will be $3.00. In 1942 the tax will decrease and continue to decrease until 20 years have passed and the bonds have been paid off. Putting it another way the tax rate will not increase in 1939, will increase 6c in 1940, 12c in 1941; will decrease 1-4 cent in 1942 and will decrease 1-4 cent each year thereafter.

3. What will Santa Ana get for the $385,000?

a. In the immediate future—employment for local labor, sale of local materials.

b. As a permanent going concern—a junior college that will train young men and women for immediate entry into various semi-professional business, trade and industrial positions. It will offer courses in vocational training in agriculture, diesel engines, electric refrigeration, air conditioning, airplane construction.

c. A college campus that Santa Ana may be proud of. An institution that will proclaim to the world that education is the debt Santa Ana owes to youth and that Santa Ana has enough faith in her future to believe that she can pay that debt.

MRS. LESLIE E. COLMAN, Orange, Calif.

Editor Register: Would the good people of Santa Ana and Orange county please listen to the words of a student who was graduated from Santa Ana Junior college last June? The time is drawing near when you people will be called upon to vote bonds to construct sadly lacking buildings for our college. I would like to give my plea for prompt action in this matter.

When I was attending Lathrop Junior high school there was no auditorium; while present at High school there was no auditorium nor buildings; in fact, if you'll remember, we even had tents; and then while I was enrolled at JC we didn't even have buildings as good as the high school tents, and our quarters were terribly cramped. Not until I had to leave Santa Ana and Orange county was I able to find satisfactory accommodations. Why, up here at Stanford University, it's a good day's walk to cover the entire campus of 1500 acres—and yet, the college will only comfortably accommodate a little over 4000 students.

For the past few years, the registration at Santa Ana Junior college has steadily risen; perhaps only 25 students a year, maybe 50 or 100. Whatever it has been, the increase has steadily advanced. The last tabulations I have received for this year already show an increase of 128 students over last year. If we are to judge by the past year's tendencies, the increase this year will probably reach at least 150.

There must be reasons for this augmentation; definitely. I believe there are two main reasons. First, Santa Ana Junior college is known far and wide for its competent, intelligent and active faculty. Our junior college is an institution recognized by many. And yet, it has such poor facilities. Second, the mere hint of a new building program for our institution has been like the sight of honey to a hive of bees. Of course the students of our territory want to come to SAJC, if there are decent facilities.

From what I have been able to learn, the new edifices are planned to furnish accommodations for 1500 students. I firmly and sincerely believe that after the new buildings have been finished (yes, I'm optimistic), that the registration will approximate the capacity within 5 or 6 years; a factor which will definitely benefit Santa Ana.

As I mentioned, I was graduated from SAJC last June. It was only natural that I should try to interest as many students as possible in our college. Still, even a great number of the Santa Ana High school students boldly asserted that they would never go to SAJC. It was their contention that they would not have the potentialities at the junior college.

Will you permit me to deviate just a moment to prove that the above sentence could not, or should not, have been in reference to our faculty. I think I can say that I'm just an average student.

While here at Stanford I hope to major in law. It was necessary that I inquired the law committee for permission to register, because regulations are strict. A certain grade average is required; but, after I had shown my grades, I was asked specifically where my previous college education had taken place so that the standard of the institution could be examined. When I mentioned I was from Santa Ana Junior college, the immediate response was that I would have no trouble in entering Stanford because our rating was high.

Now, it appears that there should be no disappointment in the junior college because of its faculty and standard. The trouble, then, rests upon the material facilities in the way of buildings and equipment. Development is retarded in many ways because of lack of conveniences. For the easiest example, just take sports. We have long been known as a one-sport college—football. But how could we develop other sports? All we have are two old and worn-out tennis courts to work with—no baseball diamond, forced to use the YMCA and its cramped quarters for basketball and swimming (I've worked at the "Y" and I know it was never intended for the usage the school has put it to), no track, etc. Even the football field is rented. As for the girls' athletics—they have practically nothing. No basketball nor badminton courts, no volleyball, no hockey field, no baseball, little tennis and less swimming. What other school can boast of such a record, throughout, not only sports, but

News Behind The News

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—It may be only an official excuse, but the highest of authorities here has heard directly from the London feedback that the reason Britain backed down was because Russia's army is woefully weaker than the world suspects.

Red armies have always been corrupt and this one is no exception, they say in London. Britain and France were ready to stop Hitler at this point, but they could not depend upon the bear that walks like a man who has been ill for a long time.

The downtown anti-monopoly crowd resents the suggestion that they are witch-hunting merely because their first subpoenaed victim was the fattest, fattest, perennial political witch—J. P. Morgan. That was only a minor phase, they say. Quietly they are organizing for what they think is an orderly examination of the American economic system.

Although no announcements have been made, eminent experts are being called in for special studies and a strong staff is being built up. About 75 government experts in six departments now are expending full time on various phases of the inquiry. About 50 others are being employed part time.

Outside experts who have been called in for special studies include Walton Hale Hamilton, Yale economist; Dean Charles Clark of the Yale Law School, T. J. Kreps, noted Stanford economist and Dexter Keezer, head of Reed college, Oregon. Two Harvard men are coming down next week.

Committeemen are proud of the caliber of men they are getting in the search for an economic policy for the next 10 years.

Much of the anti-monopoly confusion is attributable to the law under which the committee is working. The law virtually empowers each committeeman to make his own investigation of practically any subject which he considers paramount.

The Japs will be in Hangkow probably within two weeks, then will pause to see what they have ahead of. Trustworthy information here indicates they will go no further. Thereafter the war will be only what the Chinese are able to make it, which may be no inconsiderable from the Jap standpoint.

Mr. Roosevelt seems likely to lose control of the all-powerful house General Hugh S. JOHNSON SAYS

BETHANY BEACH, Del.—It looks as though Czechoslovakia were gone. If England and France are not willing to fight to save her, it seems a cinch. Half, perhaps two-thirds, of her defensive strength is not in her excellent army but in the barrier of her border mountains. Any plebiscite taking them away from the Czech republic and handing them to Hitler would be a pistol thrust in Mussolini's ribs with a greater gun-man than he on the trigger end.

Hitler's support by Mussolini is hard to understand, except on the theory of some deal by these twin Tailorhands to divide a world between them. Italy to have Spain, countries, the Nazis to have Hitler's dream of the "Trans-Eurasian axis"—a strip of an Empire from Hamburg to the Persian Gulf.

If England or France think they can stand it or that now is no time to strike, they know the situation better than any column kibitzer and it is their business.

It is heart-sickening to see the last democracy in that area of dictatorship fall. It is stomach-sickening to see the vultures already circling down to tear at the pieces. Poland demanding a clemency and Italy insisting on "plebiscites for all minorities." What does Mussolini care for minorities except to ravish them? It is ghastly but if European democracies, so close and so nearly affected, think that even this is not occasion enough to turn the universal destruction of modern war loose on mankind, it is not for us to egg them on.

What Hitler has done in this single year is astonishing—gaining practical control of the principal strategic area of Europe—Austria and Hungary—without firing a shot. By these means, he completely outflanked the heart and citadel of that bastion, Czechoslovakia. Now it seems about to fall, principally by reason of that outflanking. Nothing Napoleon ever did equalled that. It is the old German "pincers" strategy of the Eastern Front in the World War.

If this is successful, next ahead on Hitler's announced path, is Roumania and then the Ukraine—oil and wheat.

By then here he could clash with the Balkan Entente, including Turkey everything?

Our junior college has excellent motive power, but no structure to go with it. It's like trying to put a 1938 V-8 motor in an old Model T Ford; it just won't work.

I've said enough. This is my plea: LET'S HAVE A NEW CAMPUS WITH A RECORD "YES" VOTE ON SEPTEMBER 23.

STANLEY W. SLABACK, University Hotel, Palo Alto, Cal.

ways and means committee as another result of the purge. Six members of that guiding committee have been knocked off in the primaries or otherwise. Five of them are his Democratic friends (Davey Lewis, Otha Warin, Sanders of Texas, Vinson of Kentucky, Fuller of Arkansas).

Their successors will be elected by Democratic caucus, and, with things as they are, coat tail clutches are not assured of priority. The matter is of tremendous technical importance, as the WAM committee designates members of all other house committees. As everyone knows, legislation is written by committees and not on the floor.

A harbinger of what is coming next in Congress was given by Senator Pat Harrison in his sparsely reported speech to the Mississippi state democratic committee recently.

"I have not agreed with the president on everything," said Harrison speaking extemporaneously. "I don't agree with my wife on everything; and of course I catch the devil when I don't. I do not believe in automations in politics and I will never be one. As long as I have the place of authority, I owe it to myself and people to give them the benefit of my judgment and counsel." Phone

Harrison demanded curtailment of expenditures, broadening of social security to take people off relief, and purging of relief officials. ("You know and I know there are thousands on WPA rolls who have no business there").

Local Mississippi news-clippings of his remarks are being handed around in high political society here. Mississippi already has pledged its 1940 convention delegation to him. Senators are discussing the possibility of electing him floor leader on the ground that his views are more representative of majority Senate sentiment than those of any other candidate.

Best official inside guess is that debt will go above 40 billions by the end of the fiscal year last next June 30. It was $37,636,481,265.86 on September 13. This means Mr. R. is getting close to the 45 billion dollar of existing law. If some wants to promote a new spending program at the next session, he will have to repeal the statute of limitation.

And if Harrison knows what he is talking about, this will be the big issue of the coming session.

and with Soviet Russia. That would be no overnight gobbling of defenseless nations. It would be all real and certain fight.

Furthermore, since his final theoretical objective is the Persian Gulf, some military observers think the next thrust would not be toward Roumania but at Yugoslavia for a foothold on the Adriatic before he tackles Roumania and the Ukraine. That would mean the Mediterranean.

Their idea is that, without sea communications toward the southeast, his military operations would be too greatly handicapped. But the German's on the Mediterranean would be a pistol thrust in Mussolini's ribs with a greater gun-man than he on the trigger end.

Hitler's support by Mussolini is hard to understand, except on the theory of some deal by these twin Tailorhands to divide a world between them. Italy to have Spain, countries, the Nazis to have Hitler's dream of the "Trans-Eurasian axis"—a strip of an Empire from Hamburg to the Persian Gulf.

If England or France think they can stand it or that now is no time to strike, they know the situation better than any column kibitzer and it is their business.
